

'A Very Agreeable Society'
The Ecclesiastical History Society
1961–2011

Stella Fletcher

As the Ecclesiastical History Society marks the fiftieth anniversary of its foundation, it seeks to celebrate with members and non-members alike by reflecting on its own history, from its foundation by Clifford Dugmore through to the present day. The Society's publications, Studies in Church History, are well known to historians working in every period of the Christian era, particularly in the English-speaking world. This is the story behind those volumes. 'A Very Agreeable Society' tells of the key individuals who moulded the EHS into a much-loved institution, and sets the Society's activities in evolving academic and ecclesiastical contexts. Stella Fletcher is Honorary Secretary of the EHS.
