

PG Annual Symposium of the School of Modern Languages and Cultures 2018

Open to the Faculties of Arts and Social Sciences

WARWICK

SCHOOL OF
MODERN LANGUAGES
AND CULTURES

#SMLCSym2018

“Questioning the Disappearance of Disciplinary Boundaries”

Confirmed keynote speaker:

Professor Catherine Davies

Professor of Hispanic and Latin American Studies at the University of Nottingham &

Director of the Institute of Modern Languages Research,
School of Advanced Study, University of London

This student-led Symposium will explore the various ways in which it has become trendy to develop interdisciplinary approaches that gradually obfuscate disciplinary boundaries. Research areas in the Arts and Social Sciences have increasingly become acquainted with the rearrangement of the disciplines within which they are studied. We aim to discuss ‘interdisciplinarity’ as a hypothesis whilst also considering benefits and possible issues it might raise.

THIS IS WHERE
I DRAW
THE LINE

The Symposium takes place on Wednesday,
23rd May 2018 in OC1.06 from 10am – 5.30pm

This event is free to attend – and we welcome UG students as auditors! – however, places are limited so please email the organisers to confirm your attendance:

Maria Inês Castro e Silva m.castro-e-silva.1@warwick.ac.uk and

Melissa Pawelski m.pawelski@warwick.ac.uk

You can find the Call for Papers in the online events calendar of the School of Modern Languages and Cultures <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/arts/modernlanguages/news/events/>

We wish to give our sincere thanks for funding to: CADRE | RSSP | School of Modern Languages and Cultures