

West Midlands Network Training Day: Tokens in Museum Collections

Department of Classics and Ancient History, University of Warwick

Thursday 5th September 2019

The Money and Medals Network exists to build and develop relationships between UK museums with collections of coins, medals, banknotes, tokens and associated numismatic objects. Training days featuring seminars led by contributors from local and national museums are being provided across the UK with a view to sharing knowledge and expertise. Numismatic support networks can then be set up as a result of these training sessions.
