CALL FOR ARTICLES

Spectrum – Issue 1

Do you have an interesting research project, event, or series you’d like to describe in 200-500 words? Spectrum – the newly named HRC newsletter – is looking for contributions for the 2018-19 edition. Our aim is to have this glossy, paper publication (you can find it by the elevator) broadcast as widely as possible the range of our research interests and achievements across the humanities. We welcome short, punchy pieces that capture this spirit and showcase our work.

We are also looking to do a feature on newly appointed Warwick humanities staff, so we’ll be looking for the names of people who started their posts in January or are due to do so in August.

Please send your contributions along by the end of Term 3 to c.lupton@warwick.ac.uk
