

Annual Postgraduate Symposium of the School of Modern Languages and Cultures 2019

Open to the Faculties of Arts and Social Sciences

INTERMEDIALITY

Questioning the in-betweenness of media and artistic practices

Confirmed keynote speaker:

Dr Gavin Schwartz-Leeper

Deputy Head of the School for Cross-faculty Studies (Liberal Arts)
University of Warwick

Recent decades have witnessed the rapid rise of intermedial research, or the study of the crossing of borders between media. Communication studies, linguistic studies, cultural studies, philosophy, film and television studies, art history, literature and music are just a few of the domains in which “intermediality” has generated an impressive number of analytical and theoretical discussions. Given the sustained interest in intermedial research, we would like to explore the idea of the “in-between” between media in fresh and comparative ways.

The Symposium will take place on Friday, 24th May 2019 at the Wolfson Research Exchange from 10am- 5.30pm

The event is free to attend and lunch will be provided- we welcome UG students as auditors! however, places are limited so please email the organisers to confirm your attendance until 4th May 2019 at:
