The GSD Department of the School for Cross-Faculty Studies gathered its first cohort of PhD students in 2021. Join us in this event where the cohort of nine PhD students will present their research projects looking into a wide range of complex global challenges. The Symposium will also open a discussion space to reflect on the transdisciplinary nature of contemporary research engaging GSD academic. Collectively, we will unpack the intricacies of transdisciplinary research where your participation will enrich the discussion. Register using the link above and join us for fantastic conversations, refreshments, and lunch
