thinking with AI

the future* is already here

* You must prepare your students for the technology of the future, because it is the technology of the future. You must adjust your workflow to incorporate the technology of the future, because it is the technology of the future. You must use the tools of the future, because it is the technology of the future. You must believe the predictions about the technology of the future, because it is the technology of the future. You must choose to lock-in the technology of the future, so that it becomes the technology of the future.

The future is an open question. Ask whose future. Ask why this one.

warwick.ac.uk/
thinkingwithai

This work is licensed under CC BY-NC-SA 4.0.
To view a copy of this license, visit https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/