

YOUR GE-P Profile

Social Integration

Your results

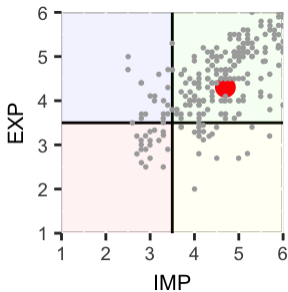

Well done! Your scores indicate that you attach importance to social integration - this is an excellent first step. You now need to find ways of experiencing it more. Here are some suggestions.

	You	Others
Importance	4.3	4.7
Experience	3.2	4.5

Some suggestions for you

- Learn to articulate your intercultural skills through Warwick's Stage 3 intercultural training workshop.¹
- Join a buddy/mentor scheme, such as the one that World@Warwick offers.²
- Participate in volunteering opportunities, such as Warwick ones.³
- Use the Global PAD 3R tool to help you learn from unexpected or annoying incidents.⁴

Academic Integration

Your results

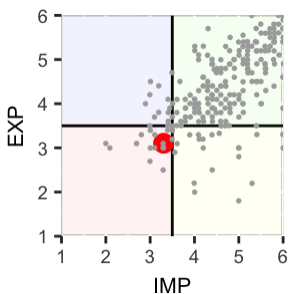

Very well done! Your scores indicate that you not only attach importance to academic integration, but are also experiencing it. To keep on developing, here are some suggestions.

	You	Others
Importance	4.7	4.5
Experience	4.3	4.5

Some suggestions for you

- If you are given group projects, learn more about working in culturally diverse teams by taking our 'e-Capsule' Working in Groups in your Moodle Personal Development Module.⁵
- Take the initiative to talk with people in your class whom you don't know well.
- Ask others in your class about their study experiences before coming to Warwick and note the similarities and differences to your own.
- Check out how others feel about their study experiences by reading their comments.⁶

Communication Skills

Your results

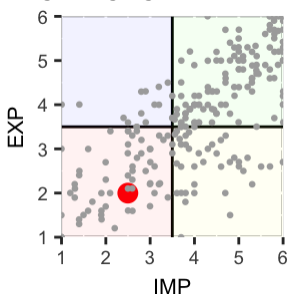

Your scores indicate that you rarely try communicating in different ways and that you also do not regard this as important. This is a pity. You are missing out on very valuable opportunities to develop the flexible communication skills that employers look for in graduates. Here are some recommendations.

	You	Others
Importance	3.3	4.7
Experience	3.1	4.4

Some suggestions for you

- Develop your intercultural communication skills through Warwick's Stage 1 intercultural training workshop.⁷
- Learn more about Global Communication skills from the Global People website.⁸
- Learn more about the communication challenges that can occur when working with people from diverse backgrounds; e.g. paper by Spencer-Oatey.⁹
- Use the Global PAD Stretch tool to help you further enhance your communication skills.¹⁰

Foreign Language Skills

Your results

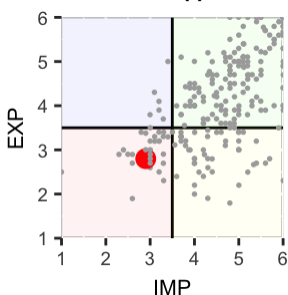

Your scores indicate that you rarely try to develop your foreign language skills and that you also do not regard this as important. This is a pity. You are missing out on very valuable opportunities to develop the foreign language skills that employers look for in graduates. Here are some recommendations.

	You	Others
Importance	2.5	4.0
Experience	2.0	3.7

Some suggestions for you

- Learn more about employers' viewpoints on the need for better foreign language skills.¹¹
- Join World@Warwick society to enhance your language skills free of charge.¹²
- Learn how to say 'hello' in the various different languages of your classmates.
- Take a formal language course through Warwick's Language Centre.¹³

Global Skills and Support

Your results

Your scores indicate that you rarely try to develop your global skills and that you also do not regard this as important. This is a pity. You are missing out on very valuable opportunities to develop attitudes, skills and qualities that employers look for in graduates. Here are some recommendations.

	You	Others
Importance	2.9	4.7
Experience	2.8	4.1

Some suggestions for you

- Understand more about 'global graduate' skills (see University Times article¹⁴ or British Council report.¹⁵)
- Learn more about employers' viewpoints on the need for intercultural skills and how to demonstrate them in interviews.¹⁶
- Learn more about the personal qualities of 'global graduates'.¹⁷
- Check out Warwick's websites for the different ways in which you can gain personally enriching experiences: Students Union¹⁸ and International Office.¹⁹