Global Education Profiler

Benchmark and understand the level of internationalisation within your Higher Education institution

Employers seek global graduates who are culturally aware and able to thrive and perform in a multicultural working environment.

Higher Education institutions therefore need to deliver a learning environment that proactively supports and enhances the development of internationalised students.

The Global Education Profiler (GE-P) provides a growth-based framework enabling you to demonstrate the drive towards improved employability, measure progress and compare against a global benchmark, with support along the way to plan and track improvement.

The GE-P measures the gap between what students and staff find important and value, and what they receive. For staff, it also measures the gap between importance and ease of handing.

Key Features
- Growth-based internationalisation framework
- Measures campus-wide internationalisation
- Provides a benchmark against other education institutions
- Detailed feedback and analysis of scores and what that means to you and your students / staff
- We survey staff (academic and professional) and students

Topics covered for staff
1. Workplace life
2. Intercultural development opportunities
3. Intercultural strengths
4. Teaching and learning
5. International collaborations
6. Workplace engagement

Topics covered for students
1. Social integration
2. Academic integration
3. Language skills
4. Communication skills
5. Global Development Opportunities

The Benefits
