

REFLECTING ON YOUR PEDAGOGICAL AND CO-CREATION PRACTISE

Take time to reflect on the following prompts to enrich your teaching practise.

What do you believe is the purpose of education?

Why did you start teaching? What if you led with that intention everyday?

What is your favourite part about teaching? What excites you and brings you joy? How can you capture and retain that feeling?

Are you bringing your whole authentic self into the classroom? If yes, how? If no, why not?

What is something you love? How can you bring that into your teaching pedagogy?

When do you feel empowered? How do you make others feel empowered?

What makes you feel vulnerable? What makes you feel comfortable? How do you think this applies to others?

In what ways do you like to be supported? Can you verbalise this to people with whom you are working?

What does co-creation mean to you? What would ideal co-creation look like to you?
