

Science, scientists and feminism

How do you do what you do?

Friday 14 June, 3-5pm

Wolfson Research Exchange

All Welcome

[go.warwick.ac.uk/
genderedknowledges](http://go.warwick.ac.uk/genderedknowledges)

Three scientists will present the ways in which they have (or have not) incorporated feminism into their science work, exploring what feminism and science means to them both as women and as practitioners. Is feminism an integral part of their science? If so, how - and if not, why not?

Speakers include:

- Professor Patricia Murphy (Open University)
- Dr Jacky Lawrence (Head of Warwick County Council's Energy Team)
- Katerina Paterak (University of Warwick)
- Facilitator: Dr Gaynor Sharp (Chemist, Artist, feminist and STEM Ambassador).