

Ke Yuan

University of Glasgow

Ke Yuan is a Lecturer in Machine Learning and Computational Biology at the School of Computing Science and the Institute of Cancer Sciences, University of Glasgow. His main research interest is developing novel machine learning and statistical methods for genomic and image data to answer questions in cancer and virus evolution. Prior to Glasgow, he received a PhD from the University of Southampton in 2013 advised by Prof Mahesan Niranjan. Till 04/2016, he was a postdoctoral research fellow at Cancer Research UK Cambridge Institute at the University of Cambridge working with Dr Florian Markowetz.

