

Dr Tapabrata (Rohan) Chakraborty

University College London, London, UK

Rohan is a Theme/Group Lead at the Alan Turing Institute and a Principal Research Fellow at UCL Cancer Institute. He leads TRAIL, the Transparent and Responsible AI Lab that develops multimodal pan-cancer predictive models. Rohan is an invited expert in Responsible AI with the Global Partnership on AI and an Editor with Springer Nature Computer Science. Rohan has a PhD in Computer Science and worked as a postdoctoral researcher at the University of Oxford where he continues to an Honorary Fellow of Linacre College.

