

Dr Theodore Zhao

Microsoft Research, Redmond, USA

Theodore Zhao is a Senior Applied Scientist at Microsoft Health and Life Sciences Research, working on multimodal biomedical imaging models as well as biomedical natural language processing. Theodore earned his PhD in Applied Mathematics degree from University of Washington, where his research applied machine learning, stochastic modeling and optimization to applications in finance and healthcare. His research interests focus on machine learning, self-supervised learning, multimodal models, and mathematical modeling.

