

Poo, what's that smell?
Run away!!

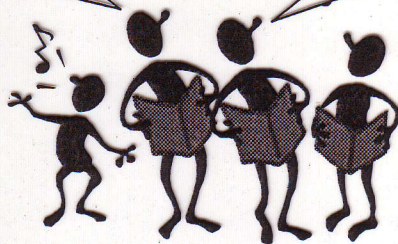

The B-O can see individual ficts directly, but are handicapped experimentally because active conficts are thrown into confusion by B-O presence.

The B-O were the first to be aware of the correlation between orientation of ficts and their colour. Bodkin tested this by dying black ficts red but the experiment failed. There are red varieties on Alias that don't obey this rule.

My A-I's got no nose

How does it smell?

B-Os believe that ficts are intelligent and that active conficts are ritual joke telling ceremonies. A-Is do not believe that ficts are intelligent.