EPSRC Symposium on Number Theory

Warwick University 2012 - 2013
Organisers: John Cremona, Samir Siksek

Selmer Groups, Descent and the Distribution of Ranks

24-28 September 2012

Organizers: John Cremona, Tim Dokchitser, Tom Fisher, Samir Siksek

Explicit Methods for Modular Forms

18-22 March 2013

Organizers: John Cremona, Samir Siksek, William Stein, Gabor Wiese, David Loeffler

Iwasawa Theory and Galois Representations

8-12 April 2013

Organizers: John Cremona, John Coates, Samir Siksek, Chris Wuthrich, Sarah Zerbes

Higher rank automorphic forms and L-functions

29 April-3 May 2013

Organizers: John Cremona, Luis Dieulefait, Toby Gee, David Loeffler, Samir Siksek

Rational Points—Geometric, Analytic and Explicit Approaches

27-31 May 2013

Organizers: Roger Heath-Brown, John Cremona, Samir Siksek, Michael Stoll, Damiano Testa

Summer School: Number Theory for Cryptography

24-28 June 2013

Organizers and instructors: Dan Bernstein, John Cremona, Andreas Enge, Tanja Lange, Francois Morain, Samir Siksek

Number Theory, Geometry and Cryptography

1-5 July 2013

Organizers: John Cremona, Kenny Paterson, Samir Siksek, Nigel Smart
