19 The best features of this module were:

Respondent	Response
	Well organised.

Respondent	Response
	The explanation of the concepts because they were really clear. Especially the chirality and helicity topics.
	Clear narrative.
	Module Forum
	The live sessions were very helpful as they gave a brief overview of the week's content and then went through some problems from past papers and the problem sheet. It was also interesting to learn about the applications of RQM. There are also lots of questions to go through on the problem sheet.
Total responses to question	5/8

20 Any particular aspects/items needing improvement (and suggestions how):

Respondent	Response
	In person lectures (I know that's not your fault!)
	I would have loved to have in-person lectures, but it is understandable that the entire module was online due to the current pandemic.
	It may be difficult to implement in practice, but I would have enjoyed more content on application and results of the theoretical work
	That there was so much more content in week 3 but next to no content in week 4. Also pure teaching on power point meant it got unnecessarily hard to understand long calculations.
	Better explanation-more accessible explanation
	I was not the biggest fan of the format of the lectures (talking over a slide). I personally would have preferred something a bit more interactive e.g. writing notes with a visualiser. Also, I found it difficult to know which/how many problems to do from the problem sheet each week. Some suggested problems for each week would have been very helpful.
