Departmental information

Welcome

Welcome from the Director of Graduate Studies

The Department of Psychology was established in 1975. Our goal is to provide and maintain an environment in which teaching and research of the highest quality can flourish. Postgraduate students play an important role in this mission. They are a source of innovation and inspiration in research, and they are essential members of the research community. We aim to offer postgraduate students everything they need to fulfil their potential. You will find that our facilities for teaching and research are superb. I hope that the Department's research climate will inspire you to produce your best work and that you will thoroughly enjoy your study experience at Warwick.

Michaela Gummerum, Director of Graduate Studies, Michaela.Gummerum@warwick.ac.uk Room H1.37 Humanities, ext 73945

Introduction

This Handbook is a summary of departmental and relevant university procedures. It is designed to be a reference for you throughout your course, and to help new students find their way. It should be used in conjunction with the MSc in Psychological Research web pages which will also provide useful information and links and alert you to changes within the academic year. Remember, there will be updated information every year, so do have a read through and keep yourself up to date for the new academic year. We may also advise you of any changes via email.

This handbook is produced for you, as a student in the department, and corrections or suggestions for improvements are welcome. Please send any suggestions to the Postgraduate Programmes Officer, Jenny Regan (H0.42 – psychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk )

How we communicate with you.

Email

The primary way the department will contact you is through your official Warwick email address which is given to you on registration. It will have the format xxxxxx@warwick.ac.uk. It is your responsibility to ensure that you check this regularly. 'Mass email', which is sent to a group such as everyone on a module or the course, will also go to your Warwick email address. This email will be used throughout your time here, both during term, and outside term time. If you do have an alternative contact email, please ensure that you keep university records of this up to date. You can do this through MyWarwick. If you will not be able to access email, please make sure that another arrangement is made.

Telephone

In the case of an emergency, we would try to contact you by telephone. Please ensure that the information the University holds is accurate and up to date. In the case of an unexpected cancellation or change to a lecture, we may use a text message facility to inform you of any unexpected changes.

My Warwick app

In the case of an unexpected cancellation or change to a lecture, we would use this app to inform you of any unavoidable, last minute changes.

Post

The department does not usually handle post for students. Any mail should be directed to your Warwick postal address. If you are expecting large parcels to be delivered, these must be addressed to the student post room.

Updating your Student Record

It is essential that the department is able to communicate with you. Although email to your Warwick email address is the primary contact, it is also your responsibility to ensure that you keep university records of your address and other contact details up to date. For information on how to keep your student record up-to-date, please go to the Student Records web page -

<https://warwick.ac.uk/services/academicoffice/studentrecords/students/>

Notice boards / Plasma Screen

There are a number of notice boards around the Department which give information and updates on useful department and university information. The notice boards will provide information on Staff Student Liaison Committees, the Psychology Society and Psychology research. There are also notice boards covering careers, Mental Health, the British Psychological Society, and forthcoming conferences. We also have a plasma screen outside H141 and in the Student Common Room.

IT systems

Website

The department website is <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/> The website contains information about the Department, the people in it, news and events, and the current research.

There is also a page for the MSc Psychological Research course

<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/psychres/>. This contains all the general information or links you may need, procedures relating to your degree, such as submission of work, assessed work deadline dates and other important documents. This should be your first port of call for questions regarding process or procedure, if you have any questions or need any forms. It also contains a range of departmental information.

Moodle is the teaching site, located at <http://moodle.warwick.ac.uk/my/> The Moodle site is split into difference pages. There are pages for each of the modules that you undertake. Each module page contains information specifically for that module e.g. reading lists, lecture notes and other teaching materials.

The Moodle and web pages are produced for you, as a student in the department, and suggestions for improvements are welcome. Please send any suggestions for module pages to the module convener and any suggestions for the MSc Psychological Research page (MSc in Psychological Research) to the Postgraduate Programmes Officer, Jenny Regan (H042 - PsychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk). General comments about the site can be directed to the IT manager, Linda Wilson (linda.wilson@warwick.ac.uk).

Tabula is the student administration site, located at <https://tabula.warwick.ac.uk/> Tabula is where you will need to submit assessed work, where provisional marks will be displayed for you once your work has been marked (all marks are provisional until ratified by an exam board). It will also give you access to your personalised timetable, Seminar groups and any notes from the department. A guide to using tabula is provided for you when you start, and can be found on the Submitting work in Psychology web page.

My.Warwick is the university student site, located at <https://warwick.ac.uk/students/> This is a central space for all student information. Through this, you can access your email, update your information, access Moodle pages, access library information, campus printer information as well as information about the Students Union and events and opportunities on campus.

Starting out

Welcome Week

Information for Welcome week 23/24 can be found at

<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/newstudent-pgt>

There is a whole timetable of events in Welcome week designed to support the transition of new students in to university, including a session on transitioning to Warwick for international PGT students (guidance for new international students can also be found here - <https://warwick.ac.uk/students/welcome/internationalstudents/> ). Full details have been included in the correspondence with new students prior to their start.

There are a whole range of welcome events on Campus to help you find your way around and introduce you to activities on campus. Induction activities can be found at <http://warwick.ac.uk/welcomeweek> The Enrolment website, including events information can be found at <http://warwick.ac.uk/welcome>

Warwick Students' Union

Warwick Students' Union (SU) is a democratically run, student-led charity and a separate organisation from the University of Warwick. Upon enrolling at Warwick, every student automatically becomes a member of the SU and has access to the range of services they provide, including democracy, academic representation, student activities, welfare and entertainment. There are many different ways for students to get involved at the SU, which can support and enhance their experience whilst at Warwick. Please visit www.warwicksu.com or contact the SU at <https://www.warwicksu.com/help-support/contact/> for more information.

Policies and disclaimers

Data protection

The University of Warwick is committed to protecting the privacy rights of individuals who entrust the University with their personal data. The Data Protection Policy, which can be found at <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/idc/dataprotection> outlines the University's commitment to transparency and accountability and promoting good information governance.

All students at the University of Warwick who handle or process personal data about individuals (names, contact details, financial details, course details, personal circumstances, beliefs etc.) in the course of their studies must be aware of the Data Protection principles and how to apply them lawfully within the confines of the University Data Protection policy. Further clarification can be sought from the Administrative Officer for Legal Compliance at infocompliance@warwick.ac.uk Any database created containing information about individuals, who can, in principle, be identified, must be noted in the University registration. The registration covers the Psychology Department for certain databases we might be expected to keep. However, each user is responsible for ensuring that databases created comply with the requirements of the Act and are registered. For example, if a data file contains a means by which participants could be identified, then it is subject to the Act. Specific advice can be obtained from Linda Wilson, Data Protection Contact.

Training during Welcome Week

Health and Safety

All students are expected to undertake a Health and Safety induction and Fire Awareness certificate (on Moodle). Certificates are obtained upon completion of the Moodle course and should be retained as they may be requested as proof of completion. The courses can be found at:

Health and safety induction

Fire Safety training course

Equality and Diversity

We are committed to ensuring a working and learning environment in which all University members (staff and students) are treated fairly and with dignity and respect, and where bullying and harassment are not tolerated.

Students are expected to complete the Warwick Values Programme 23/24 course (also on Moodle). It communicates your rights and responsibilities as members of the Warwick community and enable us to create a working, living and learning environment:

- Where everyone feels welcomed and safe to be themselves
- Where everyone is treated with dignity and respect
- Where there is equal opportunity for all to reach their potential

Certificates are obtained upon completion of the Moodle course and should be retained as they may be requested as proof of completion. The course can be found at:

Warwick Values Programme 23/24

When you have completed all of the above training courses AND reviewed all the necessary course information, please complete the form the PGT New Starter Form to confirm this.

IT use

The university policy on the use of computing facilities can be found at <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/gov/calendar/section2/regulations/computing/>. As part of your Psychology degree, you may access systems or software which require further permissions. It is your responsibility to

- Ensure that you read, understand and adhere to the terms and conditions of use of the software.
- use the software for University of Warwick-related, non-commercial purposes.
- stop using this software at the end of your course.

If you have any questions or concerns about software or IT systems, please speak to Linda Wilson, IT manager (Linda.wilson@warwick.ac.uk)

Computers within the Department are PCs, networked to give access to a central server, laser printer, the library catalogue and other bibliographic resources, email and the internet. The department's standard software is Microsoft Word for word processing, SPSS for statistics, and Endnote for bibliographic work. In addition, a variety of other special purpose software is also available.

Unlicensed software must NOT be used. Computer media can be obtained from Andrew Barnacle (A.C.Barnacle@warwick.ac.uk).

Note: The centrally administered H: drive is the only safe place to store your working files. Any available local drives may be cleared automatically. It is the responsibility of the student to

- ensure that files are regularly backed-up.
- ensure that all data and files are removed from computers by the time that of project submission.

After submission, departmental PCs will be reformatted and re-allocated and any data left will be erased.

Recommended IT specs for Psychology department

You can also find information on the Recommended IT specs for the Psychology department on the Psychological Research web page, under 'Other helpful information':

<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/psychres/>

Tutorials

A Tutorial is any meeting, whether group or individual, pre-arranged with a student to deal with academic support or feedback. The department of Psychology is committed to providing a high quality of student experience and to responding in a positive and forward moving way to the feedback we receive from students.

Individual tutorials. Individual tutorials should be scheduled by the tutor on Tabula so that these are visible to the students. It is up to the tutor and the student if the Tabula facility for notes from the tutorial is used. This can help maintain a record if there are any follow up actions for either party. If an individual tutorial or supervision session is a monitoring point, it is advised that some notes from the session are recorded on Tabula.

Changes to tutorial sessions. Whenever possible, a tutorial session will not be cancelled. The department expects that tutorial sessions should occur as advertised or arranged, except in exceptional circumstances. In the case of illness, the tutor can request the Office to assist in communicating with students should a change be necessary. It is the responsibility of the student to check their Warwick email account regularly.

Ethics and Research

All students undertaking a project with a Psychology basis will undertake research subject to ethical approval. All students should note that it is their responsibility to:

- Ensure that all due process has been followed and ethical approval granted before any research is undertaken.
- Ensure that any research is undertaken in a non-discriminatory manner adhering to all equality and diversity principles.
- All data collected is anonymised.
- No data is stored on any personal device or drive.
- All data is provided to the supervisor at the end of the relevant module for storage by the department.

For more information, please take a look at the Departmental Research Ethics web page -

<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/ethics>

Attendance requirements and monitoring

All students registered at the University are expected to be actively engaged with their course and to be attending lectures and seminars on a regular basis. Failure to adhere to this can result in being referred to the University Continuation Committee who have the power to terminate your registration at the University. Please see University Regulation 36 for information on this. The Department is required to monitor the attendance of all students at designated points throughout the year. It is one of the responsibilities of a student on a student visa to study and ensure that they meet the progression and attendance requirements of the course. There are therefore potential implications to visa status if monitoring points are missed. The monitored contact points cover a range of academic engagement and can be, for example, lecture attendance, tutorials, assessed work submissions, meetings with project supervisors, etc.

Monitoring points for 2023/24

Monitoring points for this course for 23/24 can be found on the 'Monitoring and attendance' web page, under 'Postgraduate Monitoring' - <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/attendance/>

What if I know I will miss a monitoring point?

If you know that you will miss a monitoring point, it is your responsibility to inform that department in advance of the point. For example, you may be ill and unable to attend the lecture that day. If you contact the programmes office (psychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk) we can mark the point as 'authorised missed'. This can only be done if you contact in advance of the session. Evidence may be requested for any missed points. It will not be done retrospectively, and it will only be done in certain situations, usually those that the student could not have predicted and had no control over (e.g. illness) as attendance is expected to be on a full time basis.

What happens if I miss a monitoring point?

If you miss one point, there is no problem, however, you will be contacted should we become concerned about your missed Contact Points, and we have to report missed points to the University who will also contact you directly.

After three missed points, or if there are other concerns with your progression, we will contact you to investigate whether you are having any problems that are preventing you from fully engaging with your course.

After four missed points, we may refer you to the relevant professional within the University welfare system who could help you, such as the PGT Senior Tutor or Wellbeing and Support Services, as appropriate.

After five missed points, you will be contacted to make you aware that you are at risk of being recommended for termination of your registration at the University.

After six missed points, the Department is able to invoke Regulation 36 (see <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/gov/calendar/section2/regulations/reg36registrationattendanceprogress/>) to begin termination of registration proceedings and your case is handed over to the Academic Office.

Attendance requirements

Students classified as "full-time" are required to complete no less than 21 hours per week over 24 weeks of the year (including self-directed study). Such students are not, therefore, permitted to undertake full-time employment during term-time. International students may also have further limitations placed on the hours they can work in order to comply with the requirements of their UK visa.

All students are expected to be regular and punctual in their attendance at classes. Students are required to remain in residence throughout the full period of any term. Any student deemed to have unacceptable levels of engagement may be referred, either by their department or by the Academic Registrar, to a Continuation of Registration Committee as set out in University Regulation 36.

Keeping in contact with the department

Please ensure that you let the department know if you are not able to make taught sessions. To do this, you can call +44/0 24761 50395, or email PsychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk Please state your course, year, ID number and the module and session you are going to miss so we can easily convey this to the session leader.

It is also a requirement of all students to keep their contact details (including telephone number, additional email and home/term-time address) up-to-date on their Student Record at all times. For information on how to do this, please go to <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/academicoffice/studentrecords/students/>

Reference requests

Writing references is part of the role of the personal tutor. It is difficult for a personal tutor to write these references if you have not engaged with them fully. Please notify your personal tutor in advance that you are requesting a reference, ideally not less than 21 working days from when they would be expected to receive contact from the reference addressee. A reference request form can help, and some tutors would like a follow-up meeting in feedback hours. The notification period and the attached documents will allow a tutor to write the most helpful reference possible.

You can find information on Requesting an academic reference here:
<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/referencepsychology/>

For Advice on Applications, Interviews and Careers please see the Student Careers Page

Transcripts and degree certificates

Transcripts

A transcript is an official summary of academic performance, including qualification obtained, modules taken and marks achieved. It also details your University start date, programme of study, level and degree class conferred (as appropriate). The transcript is a legal University document and therefore cannot be altered.

Student Records are unable to produce an 'official' printed transcript of studies for current taught postgraduate students who have not yet had their award conferred by the Senate. Postgraduate students will be notified by the Student Records team when their award has been conferred. Until notification of conferral has been received you must request an interim transcript from your department.

A printed copy of your transcript will be produced for successful taught postgraduate students for your Degree Congregation that you will receive together with your award certificate where possible. You may request additional copies if required. For more information see <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/academicoffice/studentrecords/records/transcript/>

Degree certificates

For information on Degree certificates and ceremonies, please see the university web pages at <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/academicoffice/congregation/certificates/>

Please note:

- If you attend a Degree Congregation you will be presented with your certificate on stage;
- If you register to defer your ceremony to a future ceremony date, your certificate will be issued at the time of your chosen ceremony (it cannot be issued before this time);
- If you are not eligible to attend a degree ceremony, or choose to graduate in absentia, your certificate will be posted to you or can be collected from the Student Information Centre, Senate House;
- If you choose to attend a Degree Congregation you cannot receive your certificate in advance of the ceremony.

Course information

Course costs

There are no standard additional course costs for the MSc in Psychological Research. Although students may choose to purchase textbooks, there are no prescribed texts that it is necessary for students to buy, as the library holds copies of textbooks.

Some students may undertake a project that involves travel. If such a project is approved, the cost of travel to placement will be subsidised by the Department. Specifically, the department will pay the cost of public transportation (e.g., bus pass for the period of your placement). If public transportation is not feasible (and this must be demonstrated), the department will pay 25p per mile plus parking at your placement location.

Mileage is calculated from the University. If you are unsure of the mileage, contact PsychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk.

Please note that on-campus parking is the responsibility of the student.

Costs for travel, whether by public or private transportation, must be claimed using the University's Claim for Travelling and Subsistence Allowances (FP16a), available here: Forms and Documents \(warwick.ac.uk\). When submitting a claim, you must also submit original receipts for public transport or parking.

Claims should be submitted on the last Friday of the month in which the cost was incurred. Please contact PsychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk for any queries.

Credit Weighting

Your work load is calculated in terms of CATS (Credit Accumulation Transfer Scheme). The normal load in each year is 180 CATS.

Any work undertaken for credit (and towards your degree) is measured in CATS, and you should use CATS as a guide in planning your options.

Each CATS point nominally corresponds to 10 hours of a student's work (including lectures, supervisions, private study and discussions).

Route: C8P9 - MSc in Psychological Research

Course Structure & Regulations for academic year 23/24

The normal load is 180 CATS. Two placements taken during the course allow you to contribute directly to the research area of your chosen supervisors. The research project element gives you the chance to develop your own area of study, supported through the advice of relevant academics. In addition to the specialist skills you will obtain conducting the research of the placements and projects, you will take modules relevant to your line of research.

First, you will take either "Advanced Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis" or "Methods and Analysis in Behavioural Science."

Second, you will take one or two specialist options, depending on your research theme and previous experience. These may be drawn from (subject to supervisor recommendation and availability):

- Practical Research Skills for Psychology;
- Communication, Dissemination and Professional Issues;
- Experimental Design and Data Collection

Alternatively, if you have not previously taken a final-year undergraduate module in your research topic, such a bridging module could be selected from final year undergraduate option modules, on the recommendation of a supervisor. (If you take two options, one of your placements will be half-sized.)

Assessment Conventions

The Pass Mark is 50 or higher. The Merit Mark is 60 or higher. The Distinction Mark is 70 or higher.

The course entails 180 CATS. To be eligible for an award of MSc, a student must pass all core modules at the Pass Mark of 50 and achieve at least 40 in any optional modules.

If a student takes a module from the undergraduate provision as part of their 180 CATS this will not count towards the 150 CATS required at Pass level as these modules must be at master's level.

Student must pass all 180 CATS to be considered for Merit or Distinction.

As well as in the weighted average, a student normally will require a Merit Mark in PS902 Project to be awarded a Merit, and a student will normally require a Distinction Mark in PS902 to be awarded a Distinction.

Exit Awards

Students may be awarded a Postgraduate Certificate or Diploma where it was not possible to award the highest qualification for which they were registered, which includes students as follows:

- who have not met progression requirements
- who withdraw due to personal or medical reasons

Boards of Examiners will allow a student to remedy failure (e.g., resit, resit without residence as appropriate), wherever possible, and only recommend an exit qualification where these possibilities have been exhausted (or are not available).

For a Postgraduate Taught award, or any associated exit qualifications, to be provisionally classified in the class indicated by the award classification average a student must meet the requirements set out below:

Qualification	Total Minimum Credit to be Taken	Total Minimum Credit to be Passed	Pass Mark for total minimum credit	Highest Level of Credit	Minimum Credit to be Passed at Highest Level
Postgraduate Taught Degrees
Master's	180	150*	50%	7	150
PG Diploma	120	90	50%	7	90
PG Certificate	60	60	50% (FHEQ 7) 40% (FHEQ 6)	7	40
PG Award	20	20	50%	7	20

*The award of a Master's may be made where a student has obtained 150 credits, providing the student has obtained a mark of at least 40% in the remaining 30 credits of failed module(s)

**The award of Postgraduate Diploma may be made where a student has obtained 90 credits, providing the student has obtained a mark of at least 40% in the remaining 30 credits of failed module(s).

***Modules designated as core modules on Postgraduate Taught courses are required to be passed for award, or any associated exit qualifications, unless otherwise specified in course documentation.

Degree Classifications

Degree classifications are as follows:

70%-100%	Distinction
60%-69%	Merit
50%-59%	Pass
0%-49%	Fail

To be eligible for an award of MSc, a student must pass all core modules at the Pass Mark of 50 and achieve at least 40 in any optional modules.

As well as in the weighted average, a student normally will require a Merit Mark in PS902 Project to be awarded a Merit, and a student will normally require a Distinction Mark in PS902 to be awarded a Distinction.

You can also find more detailed module information, including module aims and learning outcomes, on the Module catalogue - Home - Module Catalogue \(warwick.ac.uk\)

Registering on modules

For all non-core modules, you need to enrol for modules online via MyWarwick by the end of Week 3. Please ensure that you respond promptly to any queries (emails) from the department about your modules, or you may be de-registered. You are recommended to attend all modules from the outset, as you can deregister within this time, but may not be allowed to attend the module later (it may be full, or you may miss too much).

- Module registration opens from one week before term 1 until Week 3 of term 1
- Module convenors are here to help – do ask questions!

It is very important that you check that your modules are correct.

De-registering from modules

All core modules must be undertaken, and these cannot be de-registered from. For any optional modules, normally, students can de-register from modules up until Week 1 of term 3, but only if the module is examined in the May/June exam period and if not more than 10% of the assessed work has been submitted. The Academic Office will not allow de-registration beyond this point.

If you have any questions, please email psychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk

Workload and study time

Details of workload for each module are given on the module outline. These can be found at <https://courses.warwick.ac.uk/>

If you persistently fail to attend lectures, seminars and tutorials, you may be deemed not to be following the course. There are a series of monitoring points throughout the year, details of which can be found at <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/attendance/> under 'Postgraduate Monitoring Points'.

However, it is important to realise that there is more to a university course than contact time. In a subject like Psychology you are expected to do a lot of reading and to take responsibility for organising your own learning. At times there is a lot of work to be done in quite a short time, which means that you need to plan and manage your time appropriately.

With respect to the distribution of your time, the best guide to the proportion of time you should spend on a module is the number of Credit Accumulation and Transfer Scheme (CATS) points allocated to each module. As a rough guide, for each CATS point, a typical student would be expected to need to spend 10 hours to accomplish the learning outcomes. For example, on a 30 CATS module, this would be 300 hours overall. This would include contact time, independent study, preparation and completion of assessed work, and preparation for exams. This is a rough guide and the exact amount of time may vary from student to student.

Study skills are important because it is easy to spend time working, but to be wasting it by not working effectively. There is no single way of working which suits everyone. Your personal tutor will be able to discuss this with you. Time taken to develop good working habits and study skills will help you get the most out of your course and provide you with skills you will value throughout your life.

Writing skills are particularly important. If there are points you do not understand, or on which you want advice you should discuss them with your personal tutor.

Academic Calendar

Term dates

The term dates for the academic year can be found at <https://warwick.ac.uk/study/termdates>

Please note that there are no reading weeks on courses within the Psychology department.

Timetables

An overall timetable for all potential postgraduate modules you might take is available as a PDF on the MSc Psychological Research web page.

Please use the timetable on the website in conjunction with your Personalised timetable on Tabula. This will be personalised for the modules you choose, but may not show some events. Please note that any optional modules will only show on the personalised timetable after they have been selected through MyWarwick, and small groups are added manually once groups have been allocated (this can only be done once selections have been made).

Assessment and Feedback deadlines

You can find the submission dates for assignments in a number of places.

- There is a PDF of the submission dates in the 'Assessment' section of the Psychological Research webpage - <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/psychres/assessment/>
- The submission date for each assignment is in the assignment information on Tabula
- Each module Moodle page

The submission time for ALL Psychology assignments is midday in line with Regulation 36.

For each assignment, the university feedback turnaround time is 20 university working days. If the feedback will exceed this time, you will be contacted to inform you of this.

Examinations and assessment

Assessment conventions

Full details of assessment conventions and progression criteria for academic year 23/24 can be found at <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/aro/dar/quality/categories/examinations/conventions/>

Details are also available in the 'Course Structure and Regulations' section of this handbook.

Submission of Assessed work

All submissions will go through The University's coursework management programme, Tabula. (<https://tabula.warwick.ac.uk/>). Here you will find details of all the pending assignments for any modules for which you are registered, and their deadline dates.

Click on the 'submit' button next to the appropriate assignment. Click 'choose file' and attach your assignment file. Read through the submission notes and declarations, and tick the relevant box to confirm that you have read the notes and that the assignment is all your own work. When you have read through all the information carefully, click the 'submit' button.

Once your work has been submitted, you will be sent an e-mail receipt confirming the submission, and you should save this e-mail just in case technical problems arise.

Please make sure you have uploaded the correct work; if you have submitted an incorrect document, you can re-submit up until the point of the deadline, but once the deadline has passed you will not be able to change your submission. Your email receipt will show a copy of work submitted and it is your responsibility to ensure this is correct ahead of the deadline.

If you have missed the deadline, you will only be able to submit your work once so ensure that you are uploading the correct work.

Important Note: It is the responsibility of the student to submit the right thing in the right place at the right time.

For more information, take a look at the Submitting work in Psychology web page.

Marking

Marking criteria for each assessment are provided on Moodle.

Provisional Marks are submitted to relevant Boards of Examiners for consideration of students' academic performance. Work and marking standards are also scrutinised by External Examiners. All assessed work (except projects) and examination scripts for Psychology courses are marked anonymously. For projects, one marker is normally the supervisor. Where the marker will know who the student is, projects are marked independently by the second marker. Individual academic guidance is provided for assessed work. Tutors may inform students of the agreed percentage mark given to each piece of assessed work and the overall percentage mark obtained in each examination after the relevant Examination Board has met. All Masters level work is sample moderated. This means as well as being marked, a sample of the work will be reviewed by a moderator.

Students are strongly advised to keep a copy of any work they submit.

Agreed marks for assessed work and exams are made available online after the relevant board.

Occasionally, samples of student work may be read by external assessors during periodic reviews of departmental teaching quality.

All marks are provisional until they are approved by the Examination Board and may be subject to change.

Faculty of Science Assessment Criteria for PGT (Marking Scale)

Your work will be marked using the Science Faculty's assessment criteria for PGT.

Mark Range	Level Descriptors
80% and over	(Distinction) Work which, over and above possessing the qualities of the 70-79% descriptor, demonstrates excellence – the nature of which will vary according to the assignment but may include: comprehensive answers, complete and correct proofs or calculations, project work that extends the original brief, deep and critical analysis, originality, and advance in scholarship, a highly professional approach.
70%-79%	(Distinction) The work demonstrates mastery of the subject matter, methodologies, and, where appropriate, laboratory techniques. It also provides evidence of near complete conceptual understanding, high level technical competence, and depth of analysis or mathematical understanding. Where applicable, the statement and proof of theorems is handled with confidence, and their application to unseen material is sound. Accuracy and precision will be strong throughout and, if applicable, presentation will be excellent. Minor mistakes may nevertheless appear occasionally. Where appropriate, the work shows evidence of originality.
60%-69%	(Merit) The work demonstrates a sound and thorough grasp of subject matter and methodologies. Conceptual or mathematical understanding and technical competence are solid, but applications, arguments, or data analysis may contain minor flaws. Examined work will be well organised and structured, while good presentation and a logical approach to the material will be evident in projects or dissertations. Overall, the work reveals a significant engagement with the content and concepts, but lacks breadth, depth, and fluency in parts.
50%-59%	(MSc Pass) The work reveals an underlying grasp of the subject matter, but with areas of confusion or some gaps in conceptual/mathematical understanding or methodology. Answers are fairly well structured but may tend towards the factual or derivative. In project or dissertation work, general conclusions or outcomes are reasonable, but there is room for substantial improvement in the individual's ability to apply theorems, analyse problems or execute technical skills.
40-49%	(Fail) Though it reveals some familiarity with the subject matter, and a basic grasp of factual and conceptual material, there are frequent and important gaps and/or misconceptions. There is some reflection on and analysis of the questions or problems, or to apply theorems, but with little evidence of organisation or insight. Technical competence is poorly developed and general conclusions are unreliable or unsubstantiated.
20%-39%	(Fail) The work is insufficient to demonstrate a basic grasp either of factual or conceptual subject matter. Technical competence is at a very low level and, if appropriate, laboratory work has required constant supervision. Data used in project work may be both inaccurate and irrelevant. Overall, answers and arguments reveal little analysis or conceptualisation. Important issues may have been ignored or seriously misconstrued. There is little evidence of an individual contribution to the material/work.

Less than 20%	(Fail) Inadequate work: poorly argued, written and presented; conceptual confusion throughout; demonstrates little or no knowledge of the field. Failure to address the issues raised by the question. Project work contains little or no data. Sparse or no evidence for technical competence or individual contributions to the material/work.

Some descriptors cover a range of marks, with the location within each group dependent on the extent to which the elements in the descriptor and departmental/faculty marking criteria are met.

Academic integrity

It is expected that all students demonstrate academic integrity in their work. The idea of assignments is for students to demonstrate their understanding of the topic. This is best done in their own words.

“Academic misconduct are acts or omissions by a student which give or have the potential to give an unfair advantage in an examination or assessment, or might assist someone else to gain an unfair advantage, or an activity likely to undermine the integrity essential to scholarship and research.” Regulation 11 Academic Integrity

What is Plagiarism and Poor Academic Practice and how is it detected?

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the wording, ideas or arguments of others without appropriate citation. This includes content from a range of sources, including webpages, blogs, videos, as well as journal articles, books, or other students work. Examples include:

- verbatim copying of another individual/institution’s work without acknowledgement
- close paraphrasing of another's work by simply changing a few words or altering the order of presentation, without acknowledgement
- unacknowledged quotation of phrases from another's work
- the deliberate and detailed presentation of another's concept as one's own

Self-plagiarism refers to using content that you have written for previous assessments or other sources.

Poor Academic Practice

Poor Academic Practice refers to using material in an assignment which is very similar to that of another source, even though the source has been cited appropriately. Often this indicates inadequate paraphrasing or citation, but there is no evidence of an intention to cheat, therefore it is not Academic Misconduct. Poor Academic Practice reduces the quality of your work, therefore you will likely receive a lower mark, as you cannot be given credit for copying the work of others even with citation – you must paraphrase the content. Poor Academic Practice will be commented on in your assessment feedback and will be reflected in your mark.

How is plagiarism detected?

All work submitted via Tabula is submitted automatically to Turnitin, which contains a database of sources including journal articles, books, webpages and other students work. Turnitin produces a report showing the overlap between submitted work, and other work in its database. This report is analysed by the marker or Module Convenor and may be used as part of the identification of cases of plagiarism.

Turnitin is not the only tool we use however, and often markers detect issues because of their knowledge of the field.

How do I avoid plagiarism and poor academic practice?

Paraphrasing

When using any source, you should paraphrase appropriately from the content, i.e. put the content into your own words, and cite the source of the original idea or wording, using APA referencing style. See the Academic Integrity Guide for examples of appropriate paraphrasing.

Use Quotations

If you decided that you want to use the exact wording from a source, you must put this in quotation marks and cite the source appropriately according to APA standards, including author(s), date and the page number the content appeared on. See Academic Integrity guide for examples of appropriate quotation.

Excessive use of quotations may be treated as a Poor Academic Practice issue though, as we cannot determine what you have learnt from the content when used in this way. Therefore, use quotes sparingly, as it is preferable to paraphrase content instead.

We strongly advise that you do not use plagiarism checking software to check for these issues for two reasons:

- Avoidance of plagiarism should be built into the way you write, not checked and adjusted afterwards
- Plagiarism checking software may add your work to our Turnitin database, so you may get flagged for plagiarism of your own work

Use of artificial intelligence

Generative Artificial Intelligence Tools (GAI's) like ChatGPT, Google Bard or Bing AI, are large language models that enable generation of human-like text responses to prompts. These tools are flexible, adaptive and able to write a range of different types of responses.

Such tools can produce seemingly well written responses, and as such students may be tempted to use of these tools to complete their assessed work, but it is important to understand the departments policy on their use.

The department does not permit the use of AI to write part or all of an assignment, or to complete online tests. This covers all assessment types.

Using AI in this way does not appropriately demonstrate your ability or your understanding of a topic, and it is considered cheating under Regulation 11. Where AI is found to have been used for assessed work, it is likely there will be significant penalties to assignment marks, which can include receiving a mark of zero for the work.

There are also significant issues with the reliability of the information that AI may produce, as it can be biased or inaccurate.

For more information about acceptable and unacceptable use of AI, please see the Academic Integrity Guide.

Other forms of Academic Misconduct

Collusion

Special problems may arise with respect to reports of practical work. Experiments in class are normally carried out by pairs of students or by small groups. Descriptions of procedures and results may embody the work of more than one student and are usually not regarded as plagiarism or cheating. The introduction, discussion and conclusion must be the work of the individual student, however, and sources acknowledged in the usual way.

It is not acceptable for students to submit a report where the wording or detailed structure is similar to or merely paraphrased from another source, such as another student. Where this occurs, it is dealt with using the procedures provided by Regulation 11.

The University has a clear policy on proofreading, which can be found at https://warwick.ac.uk/services/aro/dar/quality/categories/examinations/policies/v\_proofreading

Fabrication of data

This refers to the deliberate augmenting, amending or omission of data, with the intention to deceive. It is the responsibility of the student to maintain the integrity of data at all stages of the research. If data are excluded from analysis for any reason, if hypothetical data are discussed at any point, or if any corrections are applied to data, then this must be made explicit.

Students must submit their raw data for projects (e.g., response sheets, questionnaires, electronic data files, as agreed with the supervisor at the start of the project), and evidence of informed consent by participants where appropriate, to their project supervisors by the deadline specified for the written report.

Failure to submit the raw data could result in a mark of zero for the project. Students are therefore strongly urged to consult their supervisors at the outset of the project regarding what is expected to be submitted as raw data for each particular project.

What happens if academic misconduct is suspected?

All cases of suspected Academic Misconduct are referred by the Module Convenor to the department Academic Integrity Officer (AIO), who will assess the evidence related to the case, which may include the assessment, Turnitin reports, submission logs and marker reports.

The AIO may find that the issues are more due to Poor Academic Practice, in which case the assignment will be returned to the marker to provide an appropriate mark. If the AIO supports the allegation of suspected misconduct, a meeting will be arranged, including the student and two members of the Academic Conduct Panel (ACP).

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the assignment and the students explanation, and to determine whether academic misconduct has occurred. If the ACP determines that misconduct has occurred, it is likely that the ACP will recommend a sanction to the assessment mark, which could include the student receiving a mark of zero on the assessment.

For full information about this process, please see the Student Academic Integrity Guide. More serious cases may be referred to the Academic Registrar for consideration by an external Academic Integrity Committee.

Resources and Support

If you are concerned about Academic Misconduct, or would like support on avoiding plagiarism and poor academic practice, please make an appointment with Gemma Gray (Deputy DSEP and Academic Integrity Officer): g.gray@warwick.ac.uk. You can also discuss this with Jag Jutley-Neilson (DSEP): jagjeet.jutley-neilson@warwick.ac.uk. You may also find these resources helpful.

Extension requests

Deadline dates can be found under the 'Coursework' section in Tabula and accessed via a PDF on the course web pages at: <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/psychres/assessment/>

What is a specific extension?

In psychology, an extension will only be granted where there are student circumstances, supported by independent evidence, which justify the request. For circumstances where you are not able to provide evidence, you may be able to use a self certification. For serious circumstances, or where you are unable to submit, you need to submit mitigating circumstances for consideration by a Mitigating Circumstances Panel (MCP) and the course Exam Board (more information on each of these can be found on the pages linked above).

A specific extension is a request for an extension to a deadline. It is limited and you may be required to submit mitigating circumstances for some situations.

It is important to note:

- Reasons and supporting evidence must be provided. In psychology, an extension will only be granted where there are student circumstances, supported by independent evidence, which justify the request. The only exception is where a student has flexible deadlines as a reasonable adjustment from Disability Services.
- Extension requests cannot be granted for all assessments. They are only possible on written assessments and some in year tests (NOT exams).
- There are limits on the usual amount of time given to ensure that there are not issues with other submissions, or, at the end of the academic year (project submissions) that students are able to proceed through exam boards or graduate.
  - For assessments: The request asks you to indicate how long you are requesting, please be aware that the department will not usually grant long extensions (e.g. more than 5 working days) because of the knock on impact on further assessments.
  - For tests: If you cannot undertake the test at the time set, it may be possible to set up an alternative if the circumstances are judged to warrant this. For the integrity of the assessment, tests have to be set up to run at set times

How do I request a specific extension?

Extensions are requested on the assessment by selecting 'request an extension'. All extension requests are reviewed and will not be authorised without reasons and supporting evidence. All information will be held in the strictest confidence. There is a step by step guide at

<https://warwick.ac.uk/services/its/service-support/web/tabula/manual/cm2/students/extension>

If you find that you are experiencing difficulties and these are affecting you, there are a number of people that you can talk to. We would advise speaking with your personal tutor, course director or one of the Senior tutors in department (see these pages for people in the department). You may also want to speak with Wellbeing services for support.

NOTE: An extension can be reviewed and changes requested (even after approval) until the original submission date. After this, mitigating circumstances can be submitted and these will be reviewed.

Late submission policy

There are penalties for late submission of assessed work. The coursework management system will automatically flag any work received after 12.00 (the midday (12 noon) deadline) as late. 5 percentage points per working day will be imposed for the late submission of work where no formal extension had been granted. A late piece of work that would have scored 65% had it been handed in on time would be awarded 60 if it were one day late, 55 if two days late etc. A day is counted as a 24-hour period counting from the original published deadline. Penalties accrue only on working days (not on weekends, public holidays and University closure days).

For more information about this, please refer to the Submitting work in Psychology web page, under 'Late submissions and Word count penalties'.

Release of marks and feedback

The Department aims to provide feedback to students on assessed work within 20 University working days of the submission deadline. It is possible that unforeseen circumstances, such as staff illness, might prevent this, in which case the Department would notify you in advance of a possible delay in returning feedback.

Feedback will usually be returned to you via the coursework management tool within Tabula.

If markers are returning feedback using Tabula, you will automatically be e-mailed with a link to Tabula once the feedback has been published. Either follow this link straight to the feedback page, or go to the coursework management homepage and click the 'view feedback' button next to the appropriate assignment. From here, you should see a green button that will enable you to download your feedback.

Exceptions

Unless you have been informed otherwise by the Department, you should follow the processes outlined above for all your assessed-work submissions. There may on occasion be deadlines where the submission process differs slightly, for example on assessed group-work, or project outlines. In these cases, you will be informed of the process by the module convenors and details will be made available on module web pages.

Troubleshooting

If you think there is a fault with the coursework management system, or notice errors with the assignments shown, or the deadline dates, you should email PsychologyPG@warwick.ac.uk as soon as possible.

If there is a valid reason why you are unable to submit via the electronic process, you should alert the department and the Psychology Office as soon as possible. If you are able to submit via email, this may be allowed by permission of the department (please see 'Mitigating Circumstances' section of this handbook for more information).

Departmental policies on word count

Students can expect to be penalised not only for exceeding the strict work limit indicated, but also for failure to be concise even when adhering to the guidelines on length. The word count should include the body of the essay (including citations, footnotes, figure legends, etc) but exclude the title, appendix and references).

Students exceeding the word limit will be penalised as follows: Five percentage points of the available mark will be deducted (e.g., 65-5=60) for each five percent that the word limit is exceeded (e.g., for a 1500 word essay the mark will be deducted by 5% when the count is 1501 - 1575 words, by 10% when the count is 1576 - 1650 words, etc.).

In the department of Psychology, all word counts are as stated. For more information, please refer to the Submitting work in Psychology web page, under 'Late submissions and Word count penalties'.

Examinations

The course assesses student performance on each module taken by assessed essay or other coursework and by examination. Some modules have compulsory required exercises which, although not counting towards degree classification, must be completed satisfactorily.

Other important information on examinations and procedures can be found in the University Calendar on the Warwick University web site. Particularly relevant are the sections on Student Registration, Attendance and Progress, and on Academic Integrity.

Some important points to note:

- Absence from exams is only acceptable where there are Mitigating Circumstances. Please see the appropriate section of this handbook, and the university guidance to students on Mitigating Circumstances.
(https://warwick.ac.uk/services/aro/dar/quality/categories/examinations/policies/u\_mitigatingcircumstances)
- Degree classification is decided by the Examination Board. Classification is based primarily on a weighted combination of marks across the courses taken. However, the Examination Board may take into account other factors.
- The Department aims to be supportive to students with disabilities and students who may require special examination facilities. Where Reasonable Adjustments are needed, these are organised in conjunction with Wellbeing Support Services, and students are encouraged to speak with this team so these can be put in place as soon as possible.
- Students whose first language is not English are permitted to use a bilingual dictionary during University examinations (with obvious exceptions such as Language courses). This must be a single-volume, non-specialist, general-purpose bilingual translation dictionary covering English and the student's first language. The dictionary must be submitted to the Programmes Office in order to be stamped and certified by the Examinations Secretary in advance for use in examinations.
- If students are late for an examination, they should go to the examination and report to the Senior Invigilator who will often be able to admit them. If they are late but are not admitted, they should report in their own interests to the University House reception desk.
- If an invigilator suspects students of academic misconduct during an examination, they will advise them of this during the examination but students will normally be allowed to complete the paper. The procedures and penalties for Academic Misconduct are detailed in Regulation 11.

Psychology Teaching & Assessment Strategy: A brief Student Guide

Warwick Assessment Aims

We are deeply committed to providing all students with a high quality learning experience. All assessments have specific objectives, which are directly linked to the learning outcomes at the module and course-level. The following are the key principles that underlie our assessment aims in psychology:

- All students will engage with a range of relevant formative and summative assessments, clearly linked to the module and course-level learning outcomes.
- All assessment processes will be designed to be accessible and inclusive, and aligned with the University's Equal Opportunities Statement and all relevant equality legislation.
- Formative and summative assessment will be designed to enable students to demonstrate the skills and knowledge they have acquired at both module and course level.
- The feedback mechanisms in place will include guidance on how to improve performance.
- Assessment processes and outcomes will be designed to enhance students' personal and professional development through the acquisition of skills.
- All assessment processes will be designed to embody the underlying principles of reliability; validity; equity; timeliness; manageability; and inclusivity.

(The University Assessment Strategy was approved by Senate on 29 January 2014)

What type of assessments are used in psychology?

To ensure we meet the above assessment aims, your psychology modules contain a mixture of both summative and formative assessments, a diverse range of assessments, rigorous quality assurance mechanisms and importantly, helpful feedback on work that you have submitted to help you improve on future assessments.

Summative assessments contribute to the final mark for a module; these include exams, essays, in class tests, MCQs, presentations and group work. Whereas, formative assessments are those pieces of work, which do not contribute towards the final mark of a module. A list of the types of assessments we use in psychology can be found on the Guide pages on Moodle.

To ensure for accuracy of assessments and that they meet the intended learning outcomes of the module all exams and written assessments are internally verified by academic staff and externally verified by the external examiners.

- Marking criteria is available on your module Moodle webpage
- Module convenors will give more information about the assessment in a lecture or seminar session.
- Assessment and feedback hours are an opportunity for students to meet with their Lecturers and Tutors on a one-to-one basis and receive invaluable feedback and guidance or simply discuss interesting topics.
- Feedback fora in Moodle allow you to post comments and discuss issues relating to topics and assessment. They will thus act as a form of peer-to-peer feedback and a way for module convenors to give feedback by answering any questions.
- If you would like help with academic writing skill your personal tutor support can help.

Reasonable adjustments

Reasonable adjustments are adjustments that the university can make to ensure that a student with a long term chronic condition or disability is not at a disadvantage.

The Adjustments that can be made depend on the individual's condition and needs, and this will be assessed by the disability team with Wellbeing Support Services - <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/wss/>

You must have spoken to the Wellbeing team. If you have not done this, the department will not have details of what you need. (Ticking a box on Tabula submissions is not sufficient.)

For more information on reasonable adjustments, please see our Reasonable Adjustment web pages. Students can apply for extensions to assignments, in accordance with the University's Policy on Examination Arrangements for Students with Disabilities.

For all tests and examinations, provisions are made for any student who requires a reasonable adjustment, including separate rooms, extra time, typing answers on computers, rest breaks, stop-the-clock breaks etc.

Please note: this can only be done in liaison with Disability Services and Wellbeing Support Services and if information is provided to student support by the deadlines given.

Timing and Turnaround time for all assessed work

In order to ensure that both staff and students have clear expectations, we will communicate to all students:

- that assessments are reasonably distributed across the programme to minimise the 'bunching' of deadlines, from both the student and staff perspective.
- specific deadlines for individual pieces of work and, crucially, the dates on which assessed work will be returned to students with feedback, which should be no later than 20 University working days after the date of submission in line with this policy.
- all dates associated with assessment are communicated to students via the departmental course web pages at the start of each academic year (<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/psychres/assessment/>)
- 20 University working days maximum turnaround is a universal requirement (more details here).
- If feedback from submitted work is designed to be formative towards performance in a subsequent assessment (including an examination), then the calendar of submission/return of coursework should be such as to ensure that the student has a realistic opportunity to reflect on their learning from that feedback in the subsequent assessment.

How will you mark my work?

All marks will be given on a 0-100 scale. The minimum pass mark for all postgraduate modules is 50.

All courses should provide written criteria, which are used by teachers in marking students' work. You should be able to understand why you received the grade you were given in relation to some kind of formal statement of expectations and standards so you know what you are aiming for and you can tell what you are not yet good at. If your course does not provide a statement of criteria, then ask for it. If you don't understand the criteria, ask for an explanation.

The PGT assessment criteria aim is to facilitate greater convergence in the use of mark scales across disciplines, by encouraging use of the full range of marks. This seeks to ensure equitable treatment of students of similar abilities and achievements across the University, particularly important for inter and multi-disciplinary courses. All work is marked using assessment criteria, unless it is numerically based work such as a multiple choice test. This marking criteria is used by academics to help mark along side your learning outcomes. If there are teams of markers a pre-meeting ensures that marking criteria is applied consistently. Furthermore written guidance is also provided to the team of markers.

Moderation process

The moderator will have access to the marks and comments left by the First Marker and they are responsible for reviewing essays and exam scripts to check whether or not the mark awarded is correct and fair. In particular, to ensure that the First Marker(s) has left evidence of having marked every part of each question and check the appropriateness of the marking. If the Moderator feels that the rules for marking have not been adhered to, then the Moderator should return all scripts to the First Marker(s).

The Moderator is also responsible for ensuring that the marks recorded within the script correspond to those recorded on the front of the script (including adding up). Once this has been completed, the Moderator should then sign off the final marks on tabula confirming they have gone through the moderation process and return all of the scripts to the office. Further clerical checks are then undertaken to ensure accuracy.

If there are more than one marker for an assessment, marks are compared to check for reliability and validity. All new staff are mentored and marking is checked to ensure that they understand the marking criteria.

The next stage of the assessment procedure involves external examiners, who are senior and experienced academics from other UK universities. One part of their role is to review the marking and moderating processes in place and provide us with feedback. Any issues that are raised will be given consideration and changes will be implemented to ensure that our processes remain consistent and robust. A second part of their role is to review a random sample of scripts from second and third year undergraduate modules and all postgraduate modules. They review each of these scripts with the benefit of the internally agreed marks and the distribution of marks for each module. They must firstly decide whether or not the internally awarded marks are correct and secondly, based on the scripts they have, they will form a view on whether or not the marking on all the scripts has been applied fairly and consistently. This external layer of review provides an additional mechanism of ensuring robustness, accuracy, fairness and consistency across all modules in the Department. It is only after all of these processes have been completed and the external examiners are fully satisfied with the whole examination process, that the examination marks can be signed off and results released.

Finally, Exam Board meetings take place where the distribution of marks for each student and module are reviewed to confirm that all marks and Classifications are appropriate and fair. Further information concerning the role of and the decisions available to Exam Boards together with the Classification of Degrees can be found in the 'Degree Classification' and 'Board of Examiners procedures' sections of this handbook. The Exam Boards will use their discretion where relevant, especially when dealing with cases of mitigating circumstances, It is only after all of these processes have been completed and the external examiners are fully satisfied with the whole examinations process that the marks can be signed off and results can be released to students.

We are also ensuring that students have access to the external examiners reports by discussing these at your SSLC committee annually.

Quality assurance for assessment and feedback

Annually feedback that is provided to students and the quality of that feedback is monitored by course directors, there are also checks by the Quality Assurance Manager and any issues that have been raised are discussed at the teaching away day. We also review your module feedback, SSLC comments and all work is internal and externally verified by experienced academics. Guidance will also be offered to new members of staff to ensure they are aware of the assessment and feedback processes we have in place.

Resits/remedying failure

Students have the right to remedy failure in modules where the overall fail minimum pass mark has not been reached/achieved.

Where a module has been passed overall, students are not permitted to remedy failure in individual assessment components, unless the requirement to pass these components has been specified.

Where a student has failed to reach the minimum pass mark for a module which contains more than one element of assessment, the student shall normally be required to be re-examined only in the element(s) of the assessment which has(have) not met the minimum pass mark, noting that the appropriate method of reassessment should be determined by the Board of Examiners.

The maximum pass mark which may be awarded for a module on re-examination is 50, irrespective of the mark(s) which have been given for other elements of the assessment for that module.

See procedures for re-examination in Section 6 of the University Rules for Award 23/24 and the Right to Remedy failure policy -

<https://warwick.ac.uk/services/aro/dar/quality/categories/examinations/policies/remedyingfailure/>

Board of Examiners procedures, including procedures for recording mitigating circumstances

Exam board dates

Exam boards for 2023/24 are planned as detailed below. If there is any change to this, you will be notified. Please note, following the board, there is an amount of work to do to ensure that students can be given marks as any changes from board need to be updated.

Board	Date
Interim Exam Board	July 2024
Final Exam Board	October 2024

For details of Mitigating Circumstances Panels and the possible recommendations available to the Board of Examiners, please see the 'Mitigating Circumstances' section below.

Mitigating circumstances

Definitions of Mitigating Circumstances

During the course of study you may experience exceptional unforeseen circumstances which are outside your control and might have a detrimental effect on your studies. Some students have a late identification of a disability and so reasonable adjustments to assessments may not be in place. Both scenarios are dealt with through the University's mitigating circumstances procedure.

It is important that you always tell your Personal Tutor/Departmental Senior Tutor of any mitigating circumstances or reasonable adjustment needs as early as possible to ensure that appropriate support is put in place.

If you have long term support needs, you should speak to Wellbeing services about Reasonable Adjustments as these offer ongoing support (if you have these in place, please see the 'Reasonable Adjustments' section of the handbook).

You can see the university guidance for Students on Mitigating circumstances here

Mitigating circumstances are submitted:

- if you have had serious circumstances that have stopped you submitting work or attending an exam
- if there are circumstances you wish to be considered by a mitigating circumstances panel (for recommendations to be made to the relevant exam board)

You make a submission through the 'personal circumstances' tab on TABULA.

Submissions must be made by the published deadline for consideration by the mitigating circumstances panel / exam board. We cannot take into account circumstances that we are not told about. To ensure fairness to all students, it is your responsibility to fully disclose all relevant mitigating circumstances and to ensure you are aware of the possible outcomes.

Important points about mitigating circumstances:

- Mitigating circumstances do not change marks - work is not (and cannot fairly be) marked in a different way because of mitigating circumstances.
- If you sit a test or submit an assignment during the year, you are declaring yourself fit to do so. Being 'fit' generally means that you are feeling well and functioning effectively. Therefore, if you are feeling unwell because of qualifying medical or personal difficulties, you should not sit a test or submit an assignment, but should contact us as soon as possible to let us know, and submit mitigating circumstances which will allow you to evidence the difficulties you are having. It is important that you submit this as soon as possible at the time of the illness / issue. In this way we can help most effectively.
- If you take a test or submit an assignment knowing that you are unwell because of qualifying medical or personal difficulties, particularly if you have received marks for that assessment, you will not normally be able to successfully claim mitigating circumstances. There are some, limited, circumstances in which a student can make a successful claim after having gone ahead and sat an exam or submitted an assignment knowing they were unwell. This would normally be limited to situations where a student was so unwell that they were unable to recognise or determine their own ill health, and medical documentation would need to be provided to confirm this.
- There are a number of things that Mitigating circumstances panels can do, all of which are detailed in this section and in the university policy (see 'What happens next' below)

Evidence should:

- corroborate what is being stated in the submission.
- be timely - it should corroborate the timescales being claimed for and, usually, be written around the time you were experiencing your claim in order for an assessment to be made on the impact of your claim. Evidence written sometime after the event will not normally be accepted as it is not usually possible to evidence the impact of the claim on the individual during the period affected. Evidence of IT issues should show the timestamp of the issue.
- be from an independent third party. It should be dated and written on headed or official notepaper or via email and in English. (If the letter is in another language the student must provide both a copy of the original note and a translation into English. The University may seek to verify the accuracy of the translation provided.)
- Be verifiable. This means that we cannot accept evidence from unlicensed practitioners or unofficial email addresses.

- Be accessible on a university machine - we cannot accept Apple only files such as .HEIC as these cannot be opened.

Evidence can follow a submission, as long as it is received before the published deadline for the panel so that it is available for review by the panel. Submissions missing evidence can be rejected on these grounds.

Students who already experience a deterioration of an existing condition should provide additional evidence of worsening or new symptoms or any other circumstances that would have impacted on their academic performance during the assessment period to meet the mitigating circumstances criteria.

The University reserves the right to check the legitimacy of any evidence provided. If any submission is found to be fabricated or altered then the student may be investigated under Regulation 23, Student Disciplinary Offences.

The university provides more information on evidence here If you are unsure about evidence, you can speak to the PGT Senior tutor, or another member of staff you are comfortable speaking to.

What happens next?

The Mitigating Circumstances Panel will review your case at the next meeting.

Your evidence will be examined and impact of the mitigating circumstances, but not necessarily the circumstances themselves, will be graded (A-C, where A is less serious and C is most serious). Your claim will be assessed in confidence by a Mitigating Circumstance Panel (MCP) in your Department. Claims will normally be assessed after the departmental deadline for submission and before the Board of Examiners' meeting. The panel will make recommendations based upon the type, timing and severity of circumstances and any evidence provided.

In Psychology the Mitigating Circumstances Panels are made up of the staff listed below:

UG Panels	PG Panels
Deputy Head of Department	Director of PGT courses
Senior Tutor(s)	PGT Senior tutor
DSEP	Course Director
Teaching and Learning Manager	Teaching and Learning Manager
Programme Administrator	Programme Administrator

The Board of Examiners will be notified of the decision but NOT of your mitigating circumstances to ensure confidentiality. Outcomes made to the Board of Examiners will be recorded by student ID number only. The record will include a brief summary of the discussion of the case. You are entitled to know the outcome of your submission, however, details of the discussions held will not normally be disclosed.

What are the possible outcomes?

The MCP will take into account and reflect relevant factors such as your mode of study, or mode of assessment and the decision will be based on the evidence that has been presented to it in the original submission. Marks WILL NOT be changed for assessed work or examinations.

Depending upon the severity of the circumstances, possible recommendations of the Board of Examiners can include:

- The claim was rejected.
- The mitigating circumstances were considered weak, and/or had no material effect on your academic performance. For example, the circumstances fall within the normal level of everyday life that a person with normal emotional resilience would be expected to cope with.

If the claim was supported, the Board of Examiners may reach on of the following outcomes:

- Waive or reduce penalties for late submission of assessed work.
- Accept submission of assessed work received by a method other than the delivery assessment system (with or without late penalty submission)
- If you have failed to submit a piece of work for assessment with a credit weighting of 3 credits or less, you may have that piece of assessment waived. In this circumstance, the Board might conclude that it is not in your interest (or it is not possible) to reschedule it. The unreliable component will be disregarded and the module mark will be recalculated.
- Allow you a further re-sit (examination)/re-submit (assessed work) opportunity. This would be as a final attempt so the marks will be capped at the pass mark and there will be no further opportunity to remedy failure.
- Allow you a further sit (examination)/submit (assessed work) opportunity. This would be as a first attempt so marks will not be capped and there will be a further opportunity to remedy failure. Any marks achieved in the subsequent attempt will count as the original mark.
- Allow you to proceed with low credit to the next year of study. This decision must be made within University and Programme Regulations. You must be notified of the implications this has on any future failure and for the achievement of your degree.
- Subject to any restrictions imposed by accreditation or professional certification, recommend to award a Degree (or other qualification), or award of a higher class of degree than would be merited by the marks returned.
- Recommend to the Academic Registrar that you should be granted a repeat of the year in full as a first attempt so that marks will not be capped (except for the MBChB programme) and there will be a further attempt to remedy failure. All previous marks achieved will be discounted. Note this will incur another set of fees.
- Recommend to the Academic Registrar that you should be granted a repeat of the year in full as a final attempt so that the marks are capped at the pass mark and there will be no further attempt to remedy failure. Note this will incur another set of fees.

An additional outcome at any level of severity may be:

- No action is required in terms of progression decisions, but the circumstances will be carried forward and be considered when determining the degree classification at the relevant level and at a future meeting of the Board of Examiners.

Decisions on cases concerning joint honours students will be made by the school/department in which the student is registered and will be communicated to the other department(s).

Why might your claim be rejected?

- Your submission was incomplete or incorrectly submitted.
- Your claim was submitted after the relevant event and deadline for MC submission without prior indication that it might be submitted late.
- The nature of the circumstances was not over and above the normal difficulties that would be experienced by an average person with average resilience.
- There was insufficient evidence to show that the timing of the circumstances adversely affected your assessment.
- Sufficient mitigation had already been made for the same circumstances.
- The circumstance is a disability for which reasonable adjustments had already been made.

Submission Deadlines

Mitigating circumstances panels are usually held immediately prior to the relevant exam boards, however because there are a number of in year exams, to ensure that cases relating to these can be reviewed in a timely manner, Psychology has a number of panels per year. Panel dates and submission deadlines can be found at: <https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/mitcircs>

NOTE: Submissions relating to issues within a specific exam should usually be received within 24 hours of the exam.

Academic appeals

The Regulation Governing Academic Appeals is intended to enable students to raise concerns about their academic progress, arising from specific decisions of Boards of Examiners where there is evidence to suggest it is reasonable to do so under the grounds listed in Regulation 42 Governing Academic Appeals.

More information regarding academic appeals, including an appeal form, can be found at: <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/academicoffice/examinations/students/appeals>

Pastoral Care and Support

Personal tutors

Personal Tutors are academic members of staff based in departments, assigned to each student on arrival at Warwick. They provide academic advice to personal tutees on their studies and personal development including feedback on academic progress and transition into university life. They also offer help and advice on other issues that impact students' ability to study which may involve signposting students to Wellbeing Support Services for professional assistance.

Personal tutors are the first point of contact for help with concerns about academic progress, study problems, enquiries about course changes, general concerns about university life, and financial issues. All departments have one or more Senior Tutors with whom students can also discuss issues. The Psychology department has a PGT Senior Tutor (Dr Claudie Fox, H126, claudie.fox@warwick.ac.uk). On occasion your personal tutor may refer you to either the PGT Senior Tutor or to other support services within the university, such as Wellbeing Support Services.

You will be notified of your personal tutor at the start of the course.

You can also find pastoral care and support information at the Student Information Centre in Senate House - <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/reception/>

The Psychology department has a number of additional support facilities, including staff trained in mental health first aid.

Student engagement

The SSLC

The Student Staff liaison committee provide an accessible arena for students to discuss any concerns they have with teaching, learning and student support services with the academic staff from their department.

SSLCs work in conjunction with the Students Union, and their website gives details for the representatives for the academic year: <https://www.warwicksu.com/sslc/>

The Department has an SSLC devoted to resolving concerns of relevance to the postgraduate community. The PGSSLC meets four times a year (Week 1 of every term then once in the Summer). You will be informed by the PGSSLC Chair via email when each meeting will take place. Each of the taught postgraduate courses has a representative on the SSLC; the representative for the MSc in Clinical Applications will be elected at the start of the year and should attend all SSLC meetings (bear in mind that all postgraduates are welcome to attend). If you have an issue for the SSLC and are unable to attend the meeting, you should let the course representative know and they will raise a matter on your behalf. Alternatively, you can contact any other member of the SSLC to raise the matter for you. Meetings are run by the Chair and Secretary who are elected postgraduates. In addition, there are two staff representatives.

Issues from the SSLC are presented by the Chair at the Postgraduate Taught Committee meeting (Week 2 of each term) (see below), and further action taken if necessary.

We will also consult with the SSLC on any proposed course changes or any feedback which is communicated by students via the module feedback forms. Therefore, we encourage all students to complete the Module Feedback forms at the end of each module (these can be found on the individual Module Moodle page).

Please Note: The PGSSLC is a great way to improve things for postgraduates. We therefore encourage our PGSSLC representatives to try to attend as many of the meetings as possible during their time at Warwick.

If you are interested in being involved with the SSLC, please contact the current representatives.

Postgraduate Taught Committee (PGTC)

The Department of Psychology has a Postgraduate Taught Committee (PGTC) whose role is to monitor and make recommendations on issues relating to postgraduate education including but not limited to postgraduate admissions, training, progress, and teaching quality. The committee reports directly to the Department Council.

Specific duties of the Postgraduate Taught Committee (PGTC):

1. To consider postgraduate admission procedures, postgraduate training, student funding opportunities and postgraduate numbers.

2. To consider issues arising from the minutes from the PGSSLC and make any recommendations to the department staff meeting.

Resolving problems

Most issues arising during the course of a student's work should be raised initially with the lecturer, module convenor, project supervisor or personal tutor as appropriate. Issues which are of common interest for several students (for example issues concerned with resources), or which relate to Departmental procedures can usefully be raised by the course representative in the Postgraduate Staff-student Liaison Committee (SSLC). In the case of further difficulties, students should approach the Programme Director, Director of Postgraduate Studies, or the Chair of the Department, or any other member of the Postgraduate Taught Committee for advice and assistance. In particular, please note that any issues can be discussed in confidence with your Personal Tutor, the Programme Director, Director of Postgraduate Studies, or the Chair of the Department.

The University Community

At Warwick, we believe that every individual in our University community should be treated with dignity and respect and be part of a working and learning environment that is free from barriers, regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, marriage or civil partnership and pregnancy or maternity status.

We value our diverse and international community, the pursuit and dissemination of knowledge and research with real impact.

We want to support our students and each other to become critical thinkers and collaborative yet independent learners – individuals with a global and sustainable outlook, who are able to make an active and positive contribution to society. At the same time, we are committed to working towards a supportive, accessible and inclusive environment.

We uphold the importance not only of freedom of thought and expression, but also the significance of academic and personal integrity, equality and diversity, and mutual respect and consideration for the rights, safety and dignity of all.

We place great importance on the responsible behaviour of both our students and staff at Warwick. It is important for you, as a student, to have an idea of Warwick's core values and an understanding of the primary expectations of student members of the Warwick community.

The university has an online portal called Report and Support which allows students, to disclose incidents of bullying and harassment, discrimination, relationship abuse, hate crimes/incidents or sexual misconduct, carried out by a student or member of staff of the University of Warwick. If an individual decides to disclose their name and contact details, the platform also acts as a route to additional confidential support through the university's liaison officer scheme. This support includes emotional support, academic support, financial support, and support accessing emergency or alternative accommodation.

Take a look at the following to help you understand what this means for you:

Report and Support, what is...

- Sexual Misconduct
- Discrimination
- Bullying and harassment

- Relationship abuse
- Hate crime/incidents

Our values, the principles that set out expectations of how we behave as a University community, both as individuals and as an institution.

Social Inclusion setting the value we place on maintaining an inclusive environment where all can contribute and reach their full potential.

Dignity at Warwick, setting out the policy that outlines unacceptable behaviours and the process on reporting and dealing with inappropriate behaviour.

University Calendar, the main ‘rule book’ and includes ordinances and regulations which you need to be aware of, including examinations, Academic Integrity, use of computing facilities and behaviour.

Student Life, which provides information and links to university regulations, policies and guidelines that govern what you as a student can expect from the University, and what you would need to be aware of and adhere to as a registered student.

University Policies for All students

Feedback and Complaints

We want you to be able to let us know when things are going well or there is something that you particularly like, but also if there is a problem that you don’t feel you can resolve yourself. As part of this, we have a Student Feedback and Complaints Resolution Pathway and actively encourage feedback on all aspects of the student experience.

While we are committed to providing high quality services to all our students throughout their University experience, if there is something that goes wrong and you want assistance to resolve, we have an accessible and clear procedure which you can use to make a complaint (<http://warwick.ac.uk/studentfeedbackandcomplaints/>).

Recommended IT device specifications

During the 2023/24 academic year and beyond, students will need a personal computing device. As a result IT Services have produced central guidance on the recommended specification for any device students use to undertake their academic work.

There are good quality IT workspaces and computing labs on campus, but for convenience, you may prefer to use your own device. IT Services recommend a laptop for portability as you may need it on campus, in residences, and in your home during term time and holidays.

Your device must support Microsoft Office Pro Plus (or equivalent), Microsoft Teams and Moodle.

To participate in the learning and assessment for your particular course activities, you may need a different device specification. We will provide this additional information to you if it is required.

You can also see the Recommended IT specifications for Psychology students (for 23/24) under 'Other helpful information' on the Psychological Research current student web pages:

<https://warwick.ac.uk/fac/sci/psych/students/psychres/>

We would like to stress that it is not essential to buy a new device to study at Warwick – a reliable laptop that is less than three years old is likely to be sufficient. For older laptops, we advise you to check their specification (going to System > Settings).

To find out more and read the full recommended technical specification for student devices, please visit the IT Help for Students website.

The team supports all EU and international students during their studies at Warwick and assists with immigration advice (a free and confidential service advising on issues including visa extensions, dependant visas, working in the UK during or after study, travel visas, etc.); practical support (bringing family to the UK, provides letters to prove student status for visa purposes, etc). Advice on immigration should only be obtained via appropriately qualified staff in the Immigration team (<https://warwick.ac.uk/study/international/immigration>).

It is important to note that changes to an international student's enrolment status, for instance, temporary withdrawal, resit examinations etc., can have implications for their ability to hold a visa to remain in the UK and students will wish to seek advice accordingly.

IT Services as part of the Information & digital group

IT Services provide the essential resources and support necessary to give all students access to information technology services and support. If students have problems with IT related issues, IT Services provide a dedicated Help Desk. Students can go to the drop-in centre on the 1st floor of the Library building (Monday to Friday, 9am-5.30pm), telephone 024 765 73737 (Monday to Friday, 8.30am-5.30pm) or email: helpdesk@warwick.ac.uk.

Every student, with the exception of those students on courses at partner institutions which are validated by the University, is entitled to register to use the services provided by IT Services, which can be accessed from anywhere on campus. Information on setting up an account, accessing the network from on and off campus, printing and purchasing computers is available on-line at: <http://warwick.ac.uk/its>. IT Services also produce information on acceptable use of University IT facilities for students and staff: <http://warwick.ac.uk/regulation31>.

IT services also provide support for personal computer-related issues such as slow performance, removing viruses, replacing hardware and assisting with file recovery.

The training service provided by IT Services is available to all University students and is provided to facilitate students to work more effectively with applications delivered by IT Services: <http://warwick.ac.uk/its/servicessupport/training>.

IT Services provides a number of open access work areas across Gibbet Hill, Westwood and main campuses, accessible to all students, and the University provides student residences with a network connection and access to wireless. For further information on the Residential Network Service (ResNet), please visit: <http://warwick.ac.uk/its/servicessupport/networkservices/resnet/>.

Personal Tutoring at Warwick

Personal tutors offer academic support during your studies and signpost to university support services and opportunities when appropriate.

Personal tutoring is a two-way conversation, between you and your tutor, focused on your academic experience and development. The Personal Tutoring system:

- provides access to an ongoing face-to-face professional relationship while you study;
- means you are known by name, and as an individual, by a member of academic staff in your home department who can advise you about your studies and support you to navigate department processes;
- enables you to draw on your tutor's expertise about available development and support opportunities;
- creates the opportunity for you to become part of the learning community within your department and the wider University.

For advice on how to make the most of your tutor/tutee relationship, read this blog by English Language and Literature student Abigail Booth.

Personal Tutor Structure

Heads of Department and departmental Senior Tutor\(s\) are responsible for the operation of personal tutoring within their respective departments. The University's Dean of Students, with the Faculty Senior Tutors, have strategic responsibility for personal tutoring and its development across the University. Faculty Senior Tutors can assist you if you need support with your studies and your issue has not been resolved with departmental Personal and Senior Tutors.
