Reminder to update Reading Lists for 22/23

Information about updating/creating Reading List for 2022/23 has been released here: Information and Guidelines

Teaching Staff:

- Please check the 2022/23 draft and make any edits. <https://warwick.rl.talis.com/mylists> will display all reading lists you have been responsible for.
 - If your module reading list is not included here, contact readinglists.library@warwick.ac.uk.
 - If a module is not running in 2022/23, or it is no longer needed, please advise us via readinglists.library@warwick.ac.uk.
 - If you are no longer the lead for a module reading list, please advise us via readinglists.library@warwick.ac.uk.
- Please make sure to publish the list by clicking the 'Publish' button. Please make sure to publish by 31st July, if at all possible.

Further changes can be made to reading lists after publishing, if needed.

Improvements for 2022/23:

- If you have set a chapter or extract from a text, we will now automatically scan this for you, where possible. The scanning allowance is one chapter or 10% of the book, whichever is higher. We are unable to provide a scan if it is not available under our CLA licence. In this case, or if there is another problem with a scan, the digitisation team will contact you directly. If you are setting more than one chapter/extract from a text for your students, please use the Library Notes to let us know which we should prioritise for scanning.
- For this year our support for reading list creation can be provided at your desk, as well as via Teams.

Help with reading lists:

If you need any support or advice with your reading list(s), please contact your Academic Support Librarian Samantha Johnson Samantha.A.Johnson@warwick.ac.uk or email readinglists.library@warwick.ac.uk.

Colleagues from the Reading List Team will be happy to support you as you create/update your lists, either via a Teams call, or in person at your desk.

The Library Reading Lists web pages also provide detailed information and guidance.

Thank you and all best wishes,

Kate Courage (Academic Support Manager) and James Fisher (Resource Acquisitions and Digital Access Manager)
