BPS ACCREDITATION VISIT A SUCCESS

Thank you to Dr Adrian von Mühlennen, Director of Undergraduate Studies for organising the successful BPS accreditation visit on Tuesday.

The feedback was that the British Psychological Society were impressed and commended us on our students, the programme team (academics and support staff), and how we do things.

Thanks also to all those who contributed or took part.

CELEBRATING OUR HIGHLY CITED RESEARCHERS

Four Warwick academics have been named in the 2022 Highly Cited Researcher list.

Cost of living support

As part of our package of support with the cost of living, you can now access our new free online financial hub. You'll find tips, tools and expert advice on budgeting, mortgages, financial fitness test, savings, pensions and more. We've partnered with an external organisation, and tools, videos and webinars are available when it suits you. Don't forget, you can also find details of all the support available on our cost of living pages.

RESEARCH CULTURE COMMITTEE LAUNCHED

A Research Culture Committee has been established to lead a series of projects that will make an important contribution to the University's research culture going forward.

HELP US IMPROVE THE FOOD AND DRINKS OFFER ON CAMPUS

Warwick Retail are reviewing the mix of food and drink offered on campus and would like your feedback. Take part in our survey and share your thoughts to be in with the chance of winning one of three £25 Amazon vouchers.

RESEARCH ON YOUNG PEOPLE AND CHILDHOOD AND ADOLESCENT MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

Research has found that most young people who stop using childhood and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS) after reaching the upper age limit of CAMHS do not see a decline in their symptoms. Hear from the Warwick researchers involved.

15/03/2023, 12pm-1pm	Cornelia Ebert	Professor, Goethe University of Frankfurt

Internal Seminar Dr Neel Ocean WMG talks about :

1: Satisfaction / attrition in the UK healthcare sector over the past decade

Previous research has highlighted poor working conditions in the NHS. However, it has not been established whether conditions have deteriorated over time, particularly relative to people in other industries. We analysed data from both the NHS monthly workforce statistics, and from the UK Household Longitudinal Study (UKHLS) to investigate whether conditions in the NHS appear to have deteriorated over the past decade. Results suggest that work-life balance has gotten worse over time in the NHS, even more so than in other industries.

2: Weighting ratings: are people adjusting for bias in extreme reviews?

Are consumers adjusting the numerical rating of online reviews to account for fake or biased reviews? Two experiments tested treatments that manipulated how extreme ratings (1-star and 5-star) were presented. On average, reducing or flagging extreme ratings whilst preserving the mean rating does not affect perceived product quality. People appear to apply different weights to ratings of different scores, and the estimated weighting profile is asymmetrically hump-shaped.

RESEARCH

For current Internal funding Opportunities, see Research & Impact website.

- The Research Development Fund (Strategic Awards) is open for bids for projects that will take place between 01 August 2022 and 31 July 2023.
- The Humanities Research Fund (HRF)Link opens in a new window is available to Faculty of Arts staff for research-related expenses and conference travel. In certain circumstances, research students in the Faculty of Arts are also eligible to apply.
- EPSRC Impact Acceleration Account (IAA): A scheme to help pioneering scientists and engineers create successful businesses from their research, improve industrial collaboration and foster greater entrepreneurship
- Warwick-Wellcome Translational Partnership offers Translation and Innovation Grants to provide project-focussed pump priming awards to support the movement of research ideas along the translational development spectrum and/or move to the next technology readiness level. Applications to buy out UHCW clinician's time for a translational project would also be welcome. It is anticipated that 4-5 awards will be made.
- Breaking Translational Barriers Awards provide smaller awards of up to £10,000 to access bespoke external expertise and advice on the potential of the idea or technology and overcome well-defined barriers, for example engaging end users and networks, commissioning market research analyses and exploring routes to market to progress their research along the translational pipeline. The Breaking Translational Barriers Awards will not fund Warwick staff time. Contact Wellcome-Translation@warwick.ac.uk to find out more.

University of Sanctuary Introductory training for staff and students

Warwick holds a University of Sanctuary award, recognising good practice welcoming people seeking sanctuary through facilitated access to higher education, supporting local refugee communities, and taking an active role in learning about the issues and obstacles faced by this group in pursuing higher education. You can read more about University of Sanctuary on our webpage here, and there are also things you can do to support a culture of safety, solidarity, and empowerment for people seeking sanctuary – including completing our new training module!

One of the most valuable things we can do all do is educate ourselves. Do you know the difference between an asylum seeker and a refugee? Are you familiar with the UK asylum process? Do you know why people migrate? Our introductory training module is designed to assist staff and students at Warwick to develop insights into the life of asylum seeker and refugee students in the UK. This presentation will take you on an interactive learning journey allowing you to select and explore information a section at a time.

You can complete the training here, we hope you will find it useful.
