- Chair/Deputy Chair Applications: Gender Task Force (closing Monday 17 July 2023)
- Alumni Newsletter: July

Reminder: Human Resources Service Review – deadline 12 July

On 3 July, Ruth circulated a link to a short survey being run by the Warwick Transformation Team to gather feedback on Warwick's HR service. If you have time, please can you provide feedback by 12 July, thank you.

Reminder: UoW Chair/Deputy Chair Applications: Gender Task Force (closing Monday 17 July 2023)

The Gender Task Force (GTF) are seeking a new chair and deputy chair to serve from Autumn Term 2023. They are seeking candidates who have an interest in, knowledge of, and/or expertise in identifying and addressing inequalities and barriers that arise in the university sector in relation to gender. The appointments are for a three-year term initially but can serve up to six years if desirable. The GTF was formed in 2017 and meets twice a term between 10:00 and 16:00, with part-time working arrangements taken into account for members when scheduling. Applications are welcome from all staff in all roles and at all grades, all demographics and protected characteristics, permanent or fixed-term, full or part-time, academic, academic-related, CCSG, Community Safety Team, Estates, and Professional Services. If wished, the candidates invited to take up these posts may prefer to establish a co-chairing arrangement with equal responsibility for the role. For more details about the roles and for alternate forms of application, please email SocialinclusionPA@warwick.ac.uk.

How to apply

To apply for the position, please email the following information to SocialinclusionPA@warwick.ac.uk (subject field: GTF Chair Recruitment):

- A. Name, and current department(s), and role(s) at University of Warwick.
- B. Explain (in no more than 500 words) why you wish to chair/deputy chair/co-chair the Gender Task Force.
- C. Explain (in no more than 500 words) what relevant experience (lived or otherwise) you bring to the post.
- D. Comment on whether you would be prepared to co-chair the GTF (i.e. sharing equal responsibility with a colleague for the role) if invited.

The deadline for all applications is Monday 17 July 2023.

Alumni Newsletter: July

Please use this link to view the latest alumni newsletter sent to all alumni earlier this week. There is a slightly different look and feel to the design of this newsletter due to the upcoming launch of the new alumni campaign: A Community Like No Other. The campaign will be officially launched later in July.

Best wishes
The Faculty Team

Hello all,

Next week I will be starting the Moodle roll over for the undergraduate modules.

After this point any changes made to the 22/23 versions will not be transferred to the 23/24 version. Please let me know if there are any issues with this.

Best Wishes
Linda

Dear Colleague,

I am pleased to announce that the 2024 Lister Institute Research Prizes are now open!

If you know of any promising early career researchers undertaking high quality innovative research that will lead to greater understanding in – or have implications for – the field of preventive medicine, please encourage them to apply prior to the closing date, by midnight on Wednesday 20 September 2023.

Our Fellowship gives scientists the opportunity to develop their potential with £250,000 of flexible funding over a five-year period. To date, we have been able to support some excellent early career researchers – awarding the Prize to eight in 2022 and six in 2023.

We aim to award at least six prizes, based on:

- the originality and quality of the proposed research
- the achievements of the applicant in the context of their own circumstances
- the transformational impact that the Prize would have on the recipient’s career, considering their research environment and other funding.

Other than the provision or augmentation of personal salary, the Prize fund may be used in any appropriate way to support the applicant's research, including expenditure on equipment, travel, consumables or the salaries of post-doctoral workers, technicians, PhD students, or for a replacement lecturer.

Please share this notice widely within your institution and beyond. I am hoping that with your help, there will be a diverse selection of applications from outstanding candidates across the full range of biomedical and clinical sciences.

Please refer to our website for an overview of the Prizes and how to apply, FAQs, and a summary of eligibility and the Terms and Conditions. Please direct any queries to the Operations Manager (0203 5325345 / secretary@lister-institute.org.uk).

Direct candidates here to begin their application. This online form will be available until midnight on the closing date, Wednesday 20 September 2023.

With very best wishes

We would like to share with you this invitation to an upcoming AIMS-2-Trials public webinar on pathways to care for autistic children with epilepsy.

The webinar will take place on September 14th 2023, 6pm UK (7pm CET) and registrations are possible here: https://us02web.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_ui03OKRoRyuKloYcgzuPOA
