

The Warwick Statistics Department
Man Prizes
for 4th year
MMORSE and MMathStat Students

Two Statistics Department Man Prizes of £500 are awarded annually to the two best 4th Year Masters Degree students on the MMORSE or MMathStat programmes. The funds for these are provided by Man Investments. The basis of the prizes will be excellent overall performance in the examinations and project assessments leading to the final degree classification. Excellent performance will be judged by the Board of Examiners, guided by the requirement of a clear first class degree classification with a mark at or above the 78% level. Preference will be given to students with finance-orientated projects containing some empirical analysis. Each winner of a prize is expected to allow Man Investment to receive a copy of their 4th year dissertation and a curriculum vitae.

The prizes will be awarded, in person where possible, at the departmental reception for students and their families associated with the degree ceremony in July.

Man Investments is part of the Man Group, a world-leading alternative investment management business and member of the FTSE 250, employing 1,600 people in 13 countries. Its AHL division manages one of the world's largest and most successful futures-style hedge funds. Part of this success is due to robust and rigorous research underpinning statistically-based trading models. The Man Group sponsors the Man Booker literary prizes and contributes to a range of charities.
