

Client: University of Warwick
Source: BMA News (Main)
Date: 18 September 2010
Page: 4
Reach: 103000
Size: 43cm2
Value: 122.55

Launch of digital health institute

A new Institute of Digital Healthcare has been established. It will aim to improve people's health and well-being through the use of innovative technologies. Warwick University and NHS West Midlands are responsible for the five-year programme, which is due to be launched officially next month. Issues the institute will consider include the use of monitoring and communication devices to support patients in their homes, and improving the communications within and between health and social care teams. Find out more at www.idh.warwick.ac.uk