The Centre for Applied Linguistics at the University of Warwick is pleased to announce its 23rd International Conference. It will take place online, from 28th to 30th June and will include student presentations, keynote speeches and workshops from renowned scholars.

Aim of the Conference
The conference provides undergraduate and postgraduate students and recent graduates a platform to showcase their research, receive valuable feedback, meet peers and academics in the field, and to attend workshops and keynote presentations.

Call for Abstracts
We invite you to submit an abstract for a paper presentation on one of the following themes:
- Discourse Analysis
- English and other Language(s) Teaching
- Intercultural Communication

This year’s special topic is “Crossing Boundaries” and we especially encourage submissions that address the above themes in innovative ways – crossing the boundaries of disciplines, research methods, and analytical frameworks.

We encourage submissions of empirical, conceptual/ theoretical nature and findings from dissertations/ PhD at different stages. Your abstract must include the following information:
- The tile
- Name(s) of the authors(s)

Abstracts should be no more than 250 words in length (excluding the above information). They must be submitted electronically as a Microsoft Word or PDF document using the online submission page.

Paper Presentations
All abstracts will be double-blind reviewed and are subject to final approval by the conference committee. Authors of accepted abstracts will be invited to present their paper at the WICAL 2021 online. They will be notified of their acceptance by 30th April 2021.

For more details, online abstract submission and registration visit our website.

You can also send us an email at wical2021@warwick.ac.uk, or reach out to us on Twitter and Facebook.