

Long list of video resources

This list was originally compiled by Jeff Dunn (<http://www.edudemic.com/best-video-sites-for-teachers/>). It has been extended and checked by Cecilia Rodrigues Griffiths.

This guide makes it easy to find video learning resources.

1. **TeacherTube**: This YouTube for teachers is an amazing resource for finding educationally-focused videos to share with your classroom. You can find videos uploaded by other teachers or share your own.
2. **Edutopia**: An awesome place to find learning ideas and resources, Edutopia has videos, blogs, and more, all sorted into grade levels.
3. **YouTube EDU**: A YouTube channel just for education, you can find primary and secondary education, university-level videos, and even lifelong learning.
4. **Classroom Clips**: Classroom Clips offers media for educators and students alike, including video and audio in a browseable format.
5. **neoK12**: Find science videos and more for school kids in K-12 on neoK12.
6. **OV Guide**: Find education videos on this site, featuring author readings and instructional videos.
7. **CosmoLearning**: This free educational website has videos in 36 different academic subjects.
8. **Google Educational Videos**: Cool Cat Teacher offers this excellent tutorial for finding the best of Google's educational videos.
9. **Brightstorm**: On Brightstorm, students can find homework help in math and science, even test prep, too.
10. **Explore.org**: Explore.org shares live animal cams, films, educational channels, and more for your classroom to explore.
11. **UWTV**: Offered by the University of Washington, UWTV has videos in the arts, K-12, social sciences, health, and more.
12. **Videolectures.net**: With Videolectures.net, you'll get access to browseable lectures designed for the exchange of ideas and knowledge, offering videos in architecture, business, technology, and many more categories.
13. **TED-Ed**: From a site that's long been known for big ideas, you'll find TED-Ed, videos specifically designed to act as highly engaging and fun lessons.
14. **Zane Education**: Zane Education offers resources for visual learning, including the very popular on demand subtitled videos.
15. **Backpack TV**: In this educational video library, you'll find a special interest in math, science, and other academic subjects.
16. **MentorMob**: Featuring learning playlists, MentorMob is a great place to find lessons you want to teach.
17. **Disney Educational Productions**: This resource from Disney is a great place to find videos for students at the K-12 level.

General Video Collections

Network TV, inspiring talks, and more are all available in these collections. Check out special categories and searches to find videos that will work in your classroom:

18. Hulu: A great place to find the latest TV shows, Hulu is also a source of educational videos. Documentaries, PBS, even Discovery videos are all available on the site.
19. Internet Archive: Find so much more than videos in the Internet Archive. Images, live music, audio, texts, and yes, historical and educational videos are all available on Archive.org.
20. TED: Share seemingly endless inspiration with your students through TED, a fountain of talks based on compelling ideas.
21. MIT Video: Online education giant MIT has an incredible video collection, offering more than 10,000 videos for science, technology, and more.
22. TVO: TVO is a really fun and useful online TV station, with great ways for kids, parents, and educators to learn about the world.
23. Big Think: Much like TED, Big Think offers videos (and more) from some of the world's top thinkers and learners.
24. @Google Talks: On this YouTube channel, you'll find talks from creators: authors, musicians, innovators, and speakers, all discussing their latest creations.
25. Metacafe: Find free video clips from just about anywhere, offering educational videos, documentaries, and more.
26. Link TV: On Link TV, you'll find videos and broadcasts meant to connect you and your students to the greater world through documentaries and cultural programs.

Teacher Education

Featuring higher-level learning, these video sites are great resources for finding education that's fit for teachers:

27. Academic Earth: Learn about science, justice, economics, and more from some of the world's great universities. You can even earn a degree from this site!
28. Teacher Training Videos: Specifically created to teach educators, Teacher Training Videos is a great place to find online tutorials for technology in education.
29. Classroom 2.0: Check out Classroom 2.0's videos to learn about Web 2.0, social media, and more.
30. Atomic Learning: Visit Atomic Learning to find resources for K-12 professional development.
31. iTunesU: Find university-level learning and more from iTunesU.
32. Videos for Professional Development: An excellent collection of professional development videos, Wesley Fryer's post shares some of the best teacher videos available.
33. Learner.org: Annenberg Learner offers excellent teacher professional development and classroom resources for just about every curriculum available.
34. MIT Open CourseWare: The leader in Open CourseWare, MIT has free lectures and videos in 2,100 courses.
35. Oxford University Press ELT: Professional development, interview with OUP authors and teacher trainers. Useful advice on how to use OUP titles.
36. Pearson Longman ELT: Professional Development, Advice and interview with ELT experts.
37. Macmillan ELT: Expert advice on teaching grammar, writing, pronunciation as well as webinar recordings available.

38. **Cambridge ELT**: A wealth variety of useful videos for teachers and teacher trainers, including webinar recordings, Better Learning Conference videos. Also, a collection of inspirational videos featuring interviews and talks from teachers, authors and learners.
39. **EFL Talks**: Teachers teaching teachers. Short videos of teachers teaching other teachers on different aspects of ELT.
40. **TEFL Equity Advocates**: Part of TEFL Equity Advocates campaign for equal employment rights for native and non-native English teachers.
41. **The New School**: The New School, located in NYC, offers a wide range of videos on teaching English from the MA TESOL department.

Lesson Planning

Put together your lesson plans with the help of these useful video sites:

42. **Teachers' Domain**: Join the Teachers' Domain, and you'll get access to educational media from public broadcasting and its partners, featuring media from the arts, math, science, and more.
43. **Fluentu**: Tips on how to use videos in the classroom with links to useful resources.
44. **WatchKnowLearn**: WatchKnowLearn is an incredible resource for finding educational videos in an organized repository. Sorted by age and category, it's always easy to find what you're looking for.
45. **TED Ed**: Teachers create their own video lessons.
35. **BrainPOP**: On this education site for kids, you'll find animated educational videos, graphics, and more, plus a special section for BrainPOP educators.
36. **The KidsKnowIt Network**: Education is fun and free on this children's learning network full of free educational movies and video podcasts.
37. **Khan Academy**: With more than 3,200 videos, Khan Academy is the place to learn almost anything. Whether you're seeking physics, finance, or history, you'll find a lesson on it through Khan Academy.
38. **Awesome Stories**: Students can learn the stories of the world on this site, with videos explaining what it was like to break ranks within the Women's Movement, the life of emperor penguins, and even Martin Luther King, Jr's "We Shall Overcome" speech.
39. **Nobelprize**: Cap off lessons about Nobel Prize winners with videos explaining their work and life, direct from the source on Nobelprize.org.
40. **JohnLocker**: JohnLocker is full of educational videos and free documentaries, including Yogis of Tibet and Understanding the Universe.

Science, Math, and Technology

You'll find special attention for STEM subjects on these video sites.

44. **Green Energy TV**: On Green Energy TV, you'll find learning resources and videos for the green movement, including a video version of the children's book Living Green: A Turtle's Quest for a Cleaner Planet.
45. **BioInteractive**: Find free videos and other resources for teaching "ahead of the textbook" from BioInteractive, part of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute.
46. **ARKive**: Share images and videos of the world's most endangered species with your students, thanks to ARKive. These wildlife films and photos are from some

- of the world's best filmmakers and photographers, sharing stunning images that everyone can appreciate.
- 47. **MathTV**: Students who need extra help with math can find support on MathTV. This site offers videos explaining everything from basic mathematics all the way to trigonometry and calculus.
  - 48. **The Vega Science Trust**: A project of Florida State University, The Vega Science Trust shares lectures, documentaries, interviews, and more for students to enjoy and learn from.
  - 49. **The Science Network**: Check out The Science Network, where you'll find the world's leading scientists explaining concepts including viruses and the birth of neurons.
  - 50. **PopTech**: Bringing together a global community of innovators, PopTech has videos explaining economics, water, and plant-based fuels.
  - 51. **PsychCentral**: Students can learn about what makes people tick through PsychCentral's brain and behavior videos.
  - 52. **How Stuff Works**: The video channel from How Stuff Works offers an in-depth look at adventure, animals, food, science, and much more.
  - 53. **Science Stage**: Find science videos, tutorials, courses, and more streaming knowledge on Science Stage.
  - 54. **Exploratorium TV**: Allow students to explore science and beyond with Exploratorium TV's videos, webcasts, podcasts, and slideshows.
  - 55. **SciVee**: SciVee makes science visible, allowing searchable video content on health, biology, and more.
  - 56. **The Futures Channel**: Visit the Futures Channel to find educational videos and activities for hands-on, real world math and science in the classroom.
  - 57. ATETV: Check out Advanced Technological Education Television (ATETV) to find videos exploring careers in the field of technology.

History, Arts, and Social Sciences

Explore history and more in these interesting video collections:

- 59. **The Kennedy Center**: Find beautiful performances from The Kennedy Center's Performance Archive.
- 60. **The Archaeology Channel**: Students can explore human cultural heritage through streaming media on The Archaeology Channel.
- 61. **Web of Stories**: On Web of Stories, people share their life stories, including Stan Lee, writer, Mike Bayon, WWII veteran, and Donald Knuth, computer scientist.
- 62. **Stephen Spielberg Film and Video Archive**: In this archive, you'll find films and videos relating to the Holocaust, including the Nuremberg Trials and Hitler speeches.
- 63. **Culture Catch**: Students can tune into culture with Dusty Wright's Culture Catch.
- 64. **Folkstreams**: On Folkstream.net, a national preserve of documentary films about American roots cultures, you'll find the best of American folklore films.
- 65. **Digital History**: A project of the University of Houston, Digital History uses new technology, including video, to enhance teaching and research in history.
- 66. **History Matters**: Another university project, this one is from George Mason University. Sharing primary documents, images, audio, and more, there's plenty of historic multimedia to go around on this site.
- 67. **Social Studies Video Dictionary**: Make definitions visual with this video dictionary for social studies.
- 68. **The Living Room Candidate**: From the Museum of the Moving Image, The Living Room Candidate features presidential campaign commercials from 1952 to 2008.

69. **Video Active**: Find Europe's TV heritage through Video Active, a collection of TV programs and stills from European audiovisual archives.
70. **Media Education Foundation**: The Media Education Foundation offers documentary films and other challenging media for teaching media literacy and media studies.

Video Tools

Make it easy to find, share, and view videos with these tools:

71. **DropShots**: On DropShots, you'll find free, private, and secure storage and sharing for video and photos.
72. **Muvee**: Using Muvee, you can create your own photo and video "muvees" to share privately with your class.
73. **Tonido**: Tonido makes it possible to run your own personal cloud, accessing video files on your computer from anywhere, even your phone.
74. **Vidique**: On Vidique, you'll find a video syndication system where you can create your own channel of curated content for the classroom.
75. **SchoolTube**: On SchoolTube, you'll find video sharing for both students and teachers, highlighting the best videos from schools everywhere.

Network and Program Videos

Check out these sites to find public broadcasting and other educational programs.

76. **PBS Video**: Watch and share PBS videos online with this site.
77. **National Geographic**: Find some of the world's most amazing videos of natural life on National Geographic's online video home.
78. **NOVA Teachers**: NOVA shares highly organized videos for teachers, with 1-3 hour programs divided into chapters, plus short 5-15 minute segments from NOVA scienceNOW.
79. **Discovery Education**: Use Discovery Education's videos to inspire curiosity, bringing the Discovery channel into your classroom.
80. **C-SPAN Video Library**: Find Congressional and other political programs and clips in this digital archive from C-SPAN.
81. **NBC Learn**: Check out NBC Learn to find excellent resources for learning from NBC, including the science behind just about everything from the summer Olympics to hockey.
82. **History.com**: Watch full episodes, clips, and videos from the History channel.
83. **Biography**: Get the true story behind peoples' lives from these videos from the Biography channel.
84. **BBC Learning**: BBC offers an excellent learning site, including learning resources for schools, parents, and teachers. One of BBC's most impressive resources is a live volcano conversation discussing the world's most active volcano in Hawaii.

Free Movies and Clips

Documentaries and other educational movies and clips are available on these sites.

85. Free Documentaries: On Free Documentaries, “the truth is free,” with a variety of documentary films available for streaming.
86. SnagFilms: On SnagFilms, you can watch free movies and documentaries online, with more than 3,000 available right now.
87. Top Documentary Films: Watch free documentaries online in this great collection of documentary movies.
88. TV Documentaries: This Australian site has excellent documentaries about child growth, historic events, and even animations about classical Greek mythology.
89. British Pathé: British Pathé is considered to be the finest newsreel archive in the world and is a treasure trove of 85,000 films unrivalled in their historical and cultural significance. Over the last 50 years, this material has been used extensively by broadcasters, production companies, corporations, publishers, teachers and museums, among many others.
The entire archive is available to view online for free via our website and YouTube. The company also has a presence on Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest, Tumblr, Google+ and LinkedIn.
An in-depth history of British Pathé can be found here.

How-Tos

Satisfy students’ desire for knowledge and hands-on learning by sharing how-to videos from these sites.

89. 5min: If you’ve got five minutes, you can learn how to do something on this site. Check it out to find instructional videos and DIY projects.
90. Wonder How To: Learn everything about anything from Wonder How To’s show and tell videos.
91. Instructables: This community of doers shares instructions (often, video) for doing just about anything, from making secret doors to tiny origami.
92. Howcast: Find some of the best how-to videos online with Howcast.
93. MindBites: Check out MindBites to find thousands of video lessons, how-tos, and tutorials.
94. W3Schools: Through W3Schools’ web tutorials (video and otherwise), you can learn how to create your own websites.
95. Videojug: Videojug encourages users to “get good at life” by watching more than 60,000 available how-to videos and guides.

Government and Organizations

Offered as a service from government organizations and other groups, these are great places to find top-notch educational videos and often, historical treasures.

96. **US National Archives**: Explore US history in this YouTube channel from the US National Archives.
97. **National Science Foundation**: From the National Science Foundation, you'll find a wealth of multimedia, including instructional and educational videos.
98. **NASA eClips**: NASA offers a great way for students and educators to learn about space exploration, with clips divided by grade level.
99. **NASA TV**: Tune in to NASA TV to watch launches, talks, even space station viewing.
100. **Library of Congress**: Through the Library of Congress, you can find videos and other classroom materials for learning about American history.
100. **American Memory Collections**: Search America's collective memory to find videos and other multimedia from the American past, including film and sound recordings from the Edison Companies and 50 years of Coca-Cola TV ads.
101. **Canadian National Film Bureau**: Check out the Canadian National Film bureau to find hundreds of documentaries and animated films available online.

Others mentioned that could be integrated

26 COMMENTS

1.

David Deubelbeiss

August 10, 2012 at 11:51 am

Sorry that you missed it but EnglishCentral – <http://www.englishcentral.com/videos> is one of the top sites for video based learning bar none. Even has a free LMS for assigning video content to students. Great for academic vocabulary development of students and the content is curated exceptionally – for education.

I'll also mention my own site EFL Classroom 2.0 – full of thousands of curated videos specifically for teachers of English – ESL / EFL. <http://community.eflclassroom.com/video>

Thanks,

David

this company has been around since the 80s. They produce a lot of their own films and also carry other company productions. I have been able to find these videos in the library collection and my son thinks they are great!

• Brooke

August 11, 2012 at 12:08 pm

<http://www.libraryvideo.com/default.asp?mscssid=undefined>

Schlessinger media

1.

Sharon

August 11, 2012 at 10:11 pm

I had no idea that so many networks offered educational programs online. I typically record certain shows on my DVR so that I can watch them on my iPad using the Dish Remote Access app. It's great because I can be away from home and still be able to watch a recent Discovery special. I'll have to share this with one of my co-workers at Dish who homeschools her children. I know she'll love it – thanks!

2. arti

August 13, 2012 at 10:35 pm

do also add <http://www.myopencourses.com> to this list – 7500 hours of videos created by the top Indian universities..

3.

Diane

August 15, 2012 at 9:50 am

StudySync features online premium video lessons modeling appropriate discussion of literature for middle and high school students in its rich digital library of texts. <http://www.studysync.com>.

4.

Johan Muller

August 19, 2012 at 5:29 pm

MCITP Training Class extremely beneficial information and resources for the IT student that wishes to become a Microsoft Certified IT Professional.

5.

Crukz

August 22, 2012 at 12:12 am

I have no word for commenting for this task. Its a awesome and great work. You have point out the most interesting way of teaching,

6.

noneyama

August 23, 2012 at 5:54 pm

wissh people look into stoping Hawaii mafia old familynow their kids are running it the mafia been in business maybe about 40 years but to many people been hurt to much heavy coverup pleas let people inform on Hawaii drug trade import & export stop drughouse drug dealers Old mafia family some even may have pic with Hawaii goverment people senate, mayor or governer no proofof them making trouble tome but i the victim

7.

Julie M

August 28, 2012 at 12:21 pm

Thank you for putting together this very comprehensive list. I'm always looking for good ESL/EFL sites. Didn't see too many of those on your list. Maybe for another post. Anyway, thanks!

8.

ClassLink

September 7, 2012 at 9:46 am

Fantastic list! Education is all about inspiration and getting creative with our minds without having to be limited in the classroom setting. These items here offer opportunities for everyone willing to discover and explore. Cheers!

9.

William

September 20, 2012 at 8:38 am

Great list, thanks for sharing. You can also add learnmenu.com to it, it contains many free educational resources.

10.

Sarah Jackson

September 23, 2012 at 10:11 am

you win my heart by sharing this great info ... really great list

11.

GGI

October 10, 2012 at 3:17 am

Huge lists of links that needs everybody to save. Its very important data. Must recommend to all 12.

Kim Thomas

October 17, 2012 at 2:16 pm

Thanks for providing so many wonderful resources! Can't wait to share them with all the teachers I work with in the Madison School District.

13.

Joe Buglione

October 18, 2012 at 11:05 am

One great video resource for teachers we like to share is the Teaching Channel

: <http://teachingchannel.org/> . This provides teachers professional development towards improving their craft with lesson ideas, and is not a location for video curriculum content.

14.

T3or3tic T3or3tic

November 14, 2012 at 11:27 am

I don't see VideoNeat.com on your list. Is free, beautiful, and full of documentaries and lectures.

15.

Wikioo

November 17, 2012 at 1:06 pm

Wikioo.com the encyclopedia of website and blog. This is a beautiful website worth a look, also submit all websites and blogs on wikioo portal and help others find the best websites

16.

Freddy

November 18, 2012 at 1:06 pm

Thank you for putting together this very comprehensive list. It really helps teachers like me.

17. Kathi

November 20, 2012 at 6:13 am

Georgia Public Broadcasting has great video resources for chemistry teachers and more!

18. Roman

December 19, 2012 at 1:15 pm

Don't forget Marginal Revolution University (mruniversity.com) for economics courses.

19. Christopher Pappas

December 24, 2012 at 5:48 am

Hi Jeff,

Thank you for this valuable post.

I would like to contribute to your list Viva eLearning (<http://vivaelearning.com>) "Free eLearning Video Tutorials".

Viva eLearning it is a collection of Free Video Tutorials for people interested in educational technologies.

Have a wonderful day and keep the good work!

Christopher Pappas

20. Monica Burns

December 31, 2012 at 9:58 am

What a fantastic list! I love using TED Talks <http://wp.me/p2qsME-N> and Vimeo <http://wp.me/p2qsME-1N> in my classroom.

Math Train and Khan Academy are great inspirations for creating your own podcasts: <http://wp.me/p2qsME-6Q>

21. Mika Angels

January 2, 2013 at 9:36 am

Thank you for putting together this extremely comprehensive list of video websites .It truly helps each students and teachers if they want to watch and download some educational videos

22. Peter Hansson

January 6, 2013 at 2:56 pm

Try Mejuba.com. Unlimited storage for both videos and pictures and it's completely free. No monthly limits or quotas. You can upload a wooping 1GB PER upload!

Photos and videos are stored in their original formats and sizes and are kept unmodified for backup.

I also like that you can geo-tag your stuff so it shows up on a map. And you can search for stuff on the map – that's cool!. Already geotagged photos are automatically mapped when uploading.

As the only site i know of it uses a Windows Explorer like navigation with folders – super easy to use – even has drag and drop!.

It's free, fast, nice design as SO much better than Flickr and Photobucket.

23.

Perkins eLearning

January 17, 2013 at 4:41 pm

Fantastic list! Under the PBS area, consider adding <http://www.teachersdomain.org/>. This is a program of WGBH-Boston, soon to expand to include all PBS. (steve - this is available now from

<https://www.pbslearningmedia.org/>

We would also like to share with you the on-demand videos available at perkinselearning.org. Our topics are specific to teaching students who are blind or deafblind, who have low vision, or who have multiple disabilities including visual impairment. General education teachers will find them helpful as well, as they prepare to work with a visually impaired student in their classroom. We hope you'll add them to the list in a future update. Thanks!