A screenshot of the Warwick Student Records Enrolment Dashboard. The page has a white header with the 'WARWICK' logo and 'Student Records' text. Below this is a dark blue navigation bar with links: 'Enrolment Dashboard', 'My data', 'My Student Finance', 'Student Records Requests', 'Module Registration', and 'Contact Us'. The main content area has a white background with the title 'Enrolment Dashboard' and a red dot next to it. Below the title is a blue box with the heading 'Enrolment Dashboard'. The text inside the box explains that the dashboard contains links to tasks that should be completed following Course Registration. It also lists the core, required tasks, where showing on your Enrolment Dashboard are as follows:

- Warwick Values: All students are required to complete this Moodle prior to starting their course, and every academic year thereafter. Failure to do so could result MyWarwick App –Access information about your timetable, university email, campus maps, wellbeing support, and important university updates all in one place. The app also sends notifications about urgent or important information related to your studies.

my.wbs: Warwick Business School's online learning platform

(For Economics & Management students and students taking WBS modules): Use my.wbs to register for WBS modules (in addition to registering on eVision), access WBS module information, WBS seminar and timetable details, coursework deadlines, learning resources, and important communications for any WBS modules.

 Please note: If you take WBS modules, my.wbs doesn't synch to tabula, so you will need to check both your tabula AND my.wbs timetables

Microsoft Teams

- Download Teams onto your phone or computer
- Used for occasional online lectures, meetings, events, and shared resources.
- If a lecture is online, the link to join will normally be on your tabula timetable (click on the event and then find the link)
- Create study group chats or connect with your mentor group.
- Sign in with your Warwick account (e.g. u123456@live.warwick.ac.uk). Your username is u + your six-digit University number.
- You'll need teams for the Campus Orientation game, later today!

Transitioning to University

Transitioning to University

- University is very different from school/college
- We monitor attendance at all classes and some lectures, but we will not know if you are struggling with your work unless you tell us
- You will need to become an independent learner, who takes action
 - Attend your lectures and classes
 - Make use of Advice and Feedback hours
 - Undertake independent study
 - Complete your assessed and non-assessed work
 - If you don't understand something, you need to ask for help
 - Use the feedback you are given on your assignments and during classes

You should be putting in the same number of hours each week as a full-time job!

Your Study Time

- A full-time job is 37.5 hours of work per week
- Your study time will be divided into:
 - 8 - 10hrs on lectures; +3 - 4hrs of classes per week (Term 1 and Term 2, depending on your core and optional modules)
 - For a standard work week, this means you will spend 12 - 14hrs in lectures or classes
 - The remaining 23.5 - 25.5hrs of study time should be independent study. This includes preparing for lectures and classes, reviewing notes, working on assessments, reviewing feedback, attending Advice and Feedback hours, revising, reading textbooks/journal articles/news etc.
- Attending lectures/classes and being engaged in them will help to improve your marks
- It is important that you make good use of your independent study time

Your Study Time

Come prepared

Download the lecture slides and do the essential reading/work before the lecture.

Make lectures a priority

Attend your lectures. Attendance is a good predictor of performance and helps with structure, routine and time management.

Be an active learner

Listen, think, take notes and ask questions. Engage with the material rather than simply being there.

Make the learning stick

Review your notes afterwards and use lecture capture, where available, to revisit anything that wasn't clear.

Ask when you're unsure

Use module forums, Advice & Feedback Hours and your lecturers to ask questions and clarify your understanding.

Learn together

Form study groups and find someone to go to lectures with. Hold each other accountable and look after each other!

More on this in the Welcome Sessions tomorrow

Warwick Economics Attendance Planning

- Look out for an email from us during Welcome Week: simply follow the link in the email to complete the exercise.
- You will create four simple IF–THEN plans that you can use during the term to help you stay on track.

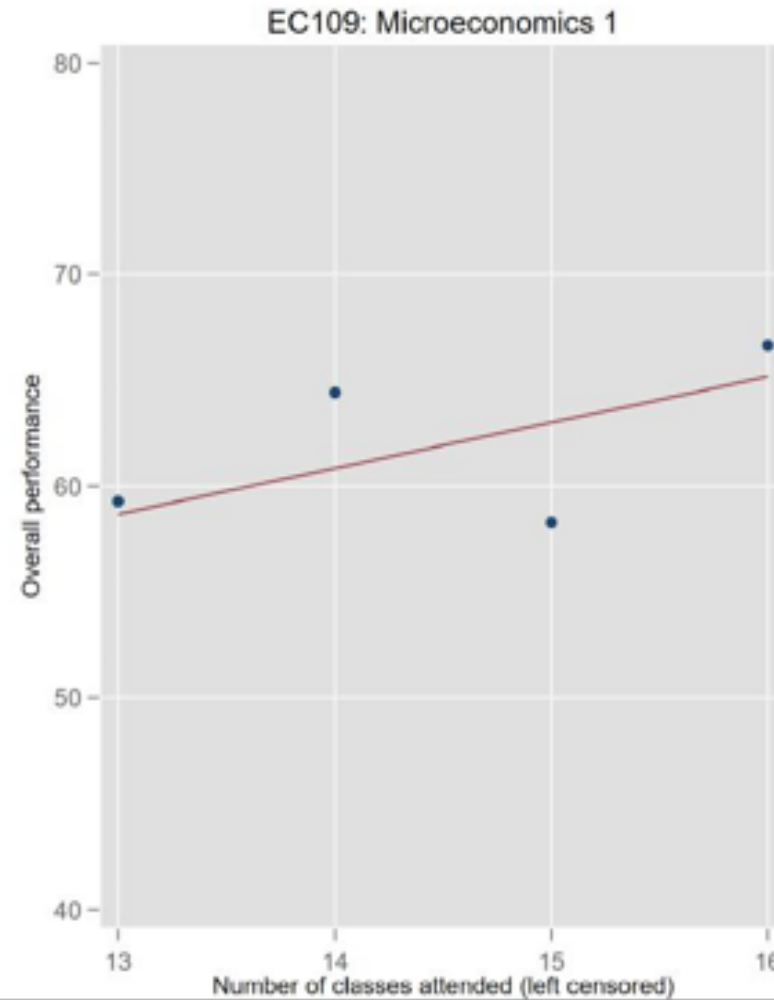

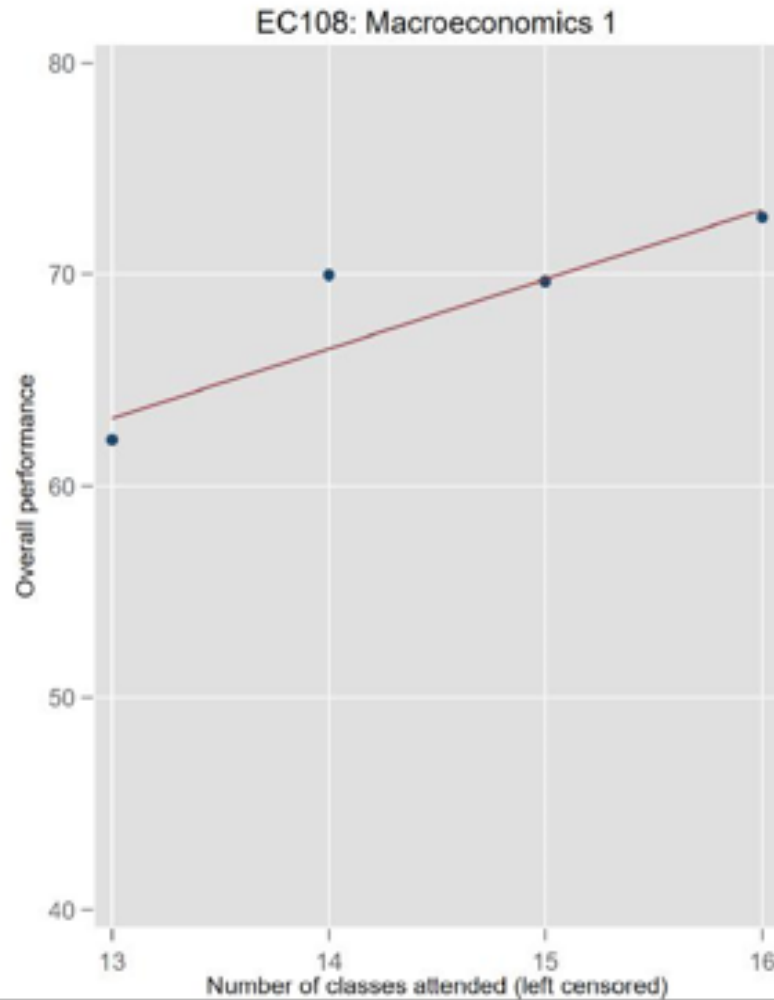

WHY?

- Regular attendance is strongly associated with better academic performance.
- Regular attendance is one of the most important study habits you can establish.
- A short 3–5 minute exercise will help you identify the situations that are most likely to affect you and lead you to think about not attending a teaching session.
- Then you can make a plan for dealing with them.

Interesting Examples

Annual seminar-class attendance and year-end performance.

Support to help your transition to University

Lots of resources available

- Resources to help you with Maths/Statistics
 - Refresher Mathematics for Economics Course
 - Maths and Stats Help Classes (term time)
- Transitioning to Economics resources
- Study Skills Sessions
 - part of Personal and Professional Development (PPD) Programme
- Information Skills for Economists resources and a plagiarism tutorial

Economics Resources

- It may have been a while since you thought about Economics!
- Some of you may not have studied Economics before.
- This is a self-study resource to help you learn and/or catch up on essential micro/macro concepts and terminology
- Key concepts explained in a non-technical way, paving the way for more in-depth understanding, which you'll get through your modules
- Each concept is defined and explained and has podcasts/readings at the end.
- There might also be basic questions at the end of each concept to help you check your understanding
- Links to additional resources to help with your transition to Economics
 - A micro example:

Report & Support

Sorry I'm going to bring the mood down – stick with it, I'm only here for 5 minutes

Susie Cleverly

UNIVERSITY
OF WARWICK

Your Warwick contract

let me explain what behaviours breach our regulations: if you engage in them we can investigate and sanction you

UNIVERSITY
OF WARWICK

What can be reported into Report + Support?

Discrimination

Harassment

Bullying

Sexual misconduct

Relationship abuse

Whether this is happening in person or online

Report + Support Platform

There are two ways you can tell us what happened

Report anonymously

or

Report with details

This is what we do:

We talk to you on teams/face to face/email

We talk through your options including just getting support with no action

you can have a friend with you

If an allegation's made against you then we support you too

What we don't do:

We don't share your disclosure with anyone

We don't 'tell students off' / expel them without investigating

We don't respond to anon reports: let me explain

We are not a crisis service- if you're unsafe call 999 or Community Safety if you're on campus

Thank you – I'm done

Peer Support: UG Mentor Scheme

- More information to come in the Student Experience Lecture
- You will all be assigned a Mentor Group.
- Each group has 2 second/third year students acting as mentors to around 15 first year students
- A chance to ask questions of students who have been where you are
- Mentor meetings will cover lots of topics:
 - Adjusting to university life and campus
 - Module registration and choosing your optional modules
 - Understanding assessments and exams
 - Revision strategies
 - Careers and employability support
- Your mentors will contact you via email shortly to let you know your group and to arrange the meetings: please make the most of this opportunity to benefit from the experiences of your peers
- Attendance at three mentor meetings counts towards your PPD credits.
