Subject: Exam Prep recording and further information - DUG update

Categories: Law - Student Email Archive

Dear Student

I have re-recording Exam Preparation due to some technical problems last week. The link is below and also loaded on to the Examinations page in the student hub. The recording is 40 minutes long. You will also find the additional referencing guidance and slides on the same page. Read the important information on AEP at the top, then scroll down to Examination Materials. Make sure you navigate through to the AEP page before your examinations and watch the short guidance videos.

I also wanted to add some information relating to the question of whether you are able to upload more than once? The answer is yes – AEP gives you the chance to upload submissions, check by downloading their submission to review, delete if necessary and reupload before the deadline. However, once finish assessment is selected, no further submissions can be made. AEP will prompt you to check files before they finish assessment.

At this point, whatever you have uploaded will be marked. There is no discretion to mark mistaken submissions so please use your upload time to do just that – check and upload your examination.

Any last minute queries – use the DUG padlet below. We are monitoring during working hours and will respond quickly.

It only remains for us to wish you all the best of luck in your examinations.

Best wishes, Maggie and Daniel
