

GR:EEEN SECOND ANNUAL CONFERENCE

SCARMAN HOUSE, UNIVERSITY OF WARWICK

8TH -9TH NOVEMBER 2012

NETWORKED LEARNING IN TRANSNATIONAL GOVERNANCE

The expansion of transnational governance in recent decades has increased regime complexity for regulators and the regulated across a number of issue-areas. The downside of such complexity is inconsistency and regulatory arbitrage, while the potential upside is that diversity permits interlinked institutions to forge a strong de facto regulatory regime. This conference explores how transnational governance is changing and how networked learning is one means to handle regime complexity. Networked learning here is broadly understood as within learning within networks, as well as learning from networks. In this sense networks can be both actors and structures. The conference brings together scholars working on networked learning in transnational governance across a broad range of topics and issue-areas:

- European Union governance;
- Experimentalist governance;
- Transnational business regulation;
- Learning in international organizations;
- Professional networks in transnational governance;

This conference acknowledges the support of the FP7 large-scale integrated research project GR:EEEN - Global Re-ordering: Evolution through European Networks European Commission Project Number: 266809.
