

In Celebration of Marcel Proust

On the centenary of his death, CRPLA is holding a workshop to celebrate the legacy of Marcel Proust's work in philosophy and literature.

1pm – 6pm, Friday 18th November 2022

Room FAB0.08, Faculty of Arts, University of Warwick

All welcome

1pm Professor Peter Boxall (University of Sussex): On Rereading Proust

2pm Professor Patrick Bray (University College London): Piecing Together Marcel: Proustian Repetition and Rereading

3pm Break

3.30pm Jeremiah Tillman (University of Maryland): The Intermittent Heart: Proust and the Temporality of the Emotions

4.30pm Professor Joshua Landy (Stanford University): Why a Novel?

5.30pm Conversation between speakers

6pm Ends

