Welcome to

The Catholic Chaplaincy at Warwick University

and also to St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Church

Welcome to the Catholic community at the University of Warwick. My name is Fr. Harry Curtis; I am a priest and the Catholic Chaplain for the University, appointed by the Archbishop of Birmingham not by the University.

If you want to come to Mass in the chaplaincy, if you want to go to Confession, if you want an ear to share your good news with, or a shoulder to cry on, if you want someone to talk to about God who won't be embarrassed at the idea – the list goes on – I am here for you, and so are many others. Come, and make your home with us.

I am also the Parish Priest of St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Church, in Cannon Park, near to Tesco and Aldi. You are welcome to come to any of the celebrations and events there. If you can't find me here in the Chaplaincy then you could try St. Joseph's. I look forward to meeting you. May God bless you in all your undertakings.

Fr. Harry Curtis, Catholic Chaplain
