INTRODUCING CLOUD CONFERENCING

by Warwick Conferences

Warwick Conferences, the award-winning conference, meeting and events business at the University of Warwick, is at the forefront of creating innovative and personalised experiences.

We are building on our reputation and adapting to the changing world by bringing you the next generation of events.

Introducing Cloud Conferencing, utilising our in-house event experience and technological expertise, we have developed virtual and hybrid solutions which offer a new and flexible way for you to connect with your audience remotely and physically.

Virtual Events

Our completely virtual event solution will enable you to connect and interact with your audience, wherever they may be in the world.

We offer an immersive and engaging way to creatively deliver your content, training, sharing of information, without the physical need for people to come together.

Using our in-house technology and experienced technicians, we will deliver a virtual event tailored to your requirements.

Hybrid Events

Our hybrid solution allows you to combine a physical event with a virtual event, giving you the opportunity to extend the reach and participation of your audience.

It will enable you to connect and interact with your audience wherever they may be.

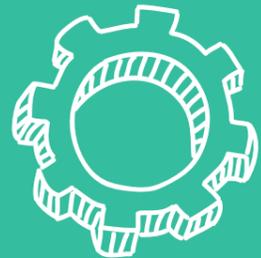

We will capture your event as it happens and simultaneously live stream it in real-time, enabling delegates to be part of the event from anywhere in the world.

Once your event has concluded, we will securely store the footage and make it available for delegates to view, if they are unable to participate at the live event.

YOUR PACKAGE CAN INCLUDE:

A flexible approach to platforms that incorporate innovations as they happen.

Overseeing the administration from delegate registration and online payment.

Support for up to 1000 delegates concurrently to anywhere in the world.

A combination of live or pre-recorded sessions.

A pre-recording service to allow for material to be viewed ahead of time or as part of the webcast.

BROADCASTING STUDIOS

Our Broadcasting Studios are the perfect solution for Hybrid events, should you require a studio space for hosting and transmitting your event directly to your audience. You will have access to our in-house technical support team who will manage the entire production of your event, through the provision of the studio space, to production and post-production requirements.
