

Patrick Dunne

Patrick Dunne is a Visiting Professor at Cranfield School of Management, and an Associate Fellow at Warwick Business School. He has extensive experience of working with boards globally. He, he has helped Chairpeople to transform the effectiveness of their boards through his current role as Chair of board consultancy Boardelta and wrote the award winning 'Boards'.

Patrick has a passion for education and was a board member at the University of Warwick from 2006 to 2015. He has extensive experience of developing social enterprises, most notably improving English and Maths teaching for 750,000 schoolchildren across Africa through the Warwick in Africa foundation that he set up in 2006.