

Introduction

The Berkshire 200 is our standard business telephone that offers a host of benefits that include a headset and modem port. Whether for reasons of health & safety or for simply keeping your hands free, the use of a headset is seen by many employers as a 'must have' requirement.

The headset port fitted as standard is compatible with major brands of headset. A modem port allows quick and convenient connection when sharing your telephone line with a computer. The Berkshire 200 also comes with a choice of linecord connection, for either the standard UK socket or Category 5 installations requiring RJ45 connections.
