If the article you are looking for does not appear in Library Search, we would recommend searching for the journal title as not all articles will appear in the article search function.

1. To find e-journal articles through the [Catalogue] tab, make sure you have all the article publication details. In this instance, the article by Tan and Macneill was published in the Medical Teacher journal in 2015, Volume 37, Issue 9.

3. Enter the journal title and click [Submit].

4. You will see from the search results that the Medical Teacher journal is available electronically on a number of different platforms.

5. It is important to check which years are covered by the different platforms. To access the 2015 issue, you could go to either Education Research Complete or Taylor & Francis. For this example, let's select [Taylor & Francis online].

6. At this stage, you might have to log in using your university number and password.

The login form is divided into two columns: 'University Students and Staff' and 'Visitors'.
University Students and Staff: Fields for 'Warwick Username' and 'Warwick Password'. Below these is a link to 'Conditions of use' and a 'Submit' button.
Visitors: Fields for 'p + Library number eg. p92752212' and 'PIN'. Below these is a link 'How do I create a PIN?' and a note: 'There is no access to licensed e-resources for visitors (eg. External Borrowers, Alumni and Retired Staff)'.

7. On the Taylor & Francis platform you will see a list of volumes and issues. In this instance, click on [Volume 37] and then click on [Issue 9].

Please note that certain journal platforms will offer a search function, where you can look for the article title directly and not navigate through the different volumes and issues.
