

Academic Progression Manager

Angelina Wanczarskyj

Angelina is a Manager to the Academic Progression team and having worked at Warwick for a number of years, she has built her career supporting the academic community within higher education. She brings extensive experience working with academic colleagues to support progression through promotion and probation frameworks, facilitating workshops and acting as secretary to Academic Staff Committee.

As part of her role, Angelina is involved in project work focused on the development and improvement of academic progression. She works collaboratively with academic and professional colleagues to support change, improve clarity, and ensure effective implementation across the institution.

Alongside her management role, Angelina is also a practising creator and illustrator who delivers creative workshops. This work informs her approach to facilitation and communication within her role at Warwick.
