

Mike Hudman

Director of Talent & Development

As Director of Talent & Development, Mike plays a pivotal role in shaping a high-performance, values-driven culture. With deep expertise in leadership development, organisational learning, and employee experience, he leads the strategy that empowers teams to grow, thrive, and achieve their full potential. He has worked at Warwick for over 6 years.

A passionate advocate for people-centred development, he designs and facilitates programmes that strengthen core values and embed positive behaviours across the organisation.

Known for his collaborative leadership and ability to inspire others, Mike cultivates environments where talent is recognised, development is continuous, and values guide every decision. His commitment to unlocking potential and fostering inclusive, purpose-driven workplaces makes him a trusted partner in driving culture and organisational excellence.

